Course Purpose

The primary purpose of this course is to develop knowledge and skills that enhance the counseling relationship with diverse clients of all ages by utilizing play media and action-based strategies to facilitate expression, self-understanding, catharsis, and personal growth and development. The basic theories and applications of play-related and action-based approaches will be explored, with special emphasis on the counselor's own unique contribution to the therapeutic relationship and the emotional needs of the client.

Course Objectives

Upon successfully completing this course, students will be able to:

1. Identify and discuss the theories and historical perspectives of play therapy and the play-related and action-based approaches of sand tray therapy, art therapy, music therapy, bibliotherapy, game play therapy and action/adventure-based therapy. Assessment of this objective will be conducted through class participation and class discussion, and by the PowerPoint Project, the Midterm Exam, and the Final Exam.
2. Demonstrate the skills and techniques of play therapy and the play-related and action-based approaches of sand tray therapy, art therapy, music therapy, bibliotherapy, game play therapy, and action/adventure-based therapy for working with clients from diverse age, ethnic, social, and linguistic backgrounds. Assessment of this objective will be conducted through class participation and class discussion, and by the PowerPoint Project, the Midterm Exam, and the Final Exam.

3. Identify and explain the major ethical and legal issues in the use of play therapy and play-related techniques with clients of all ages. Assessment of this objective will be conducted through class participation and class discussion, and by the PowerPoint Project, the Midterm Exam, and the Final Exam.
4. Demonstrate the development of an integrated personal approach to play therapy and play-related techniques with clients from diverse age, ethnic, social, and linguistic backgrounds. Assessment of this objective will be conducted through class participation and class discussion, and by the PowerPoint Project, the Midterm Exam, and the Final Exam.
5. Create a dynamic, unique and practical play therapy and play-related and action-based counseling resource kit. Assessment of this objective will be conducted through class participation and class discussion, and by the PowerPoint Project, the Midterm Exam, and the Final Exam.

Readings

There is no required text for this course. The required readings will be posted on Blackboard under the Assignments for each particular week in the semester. Readings will include journal articles, chapters from books, papers presented at conferences, and various handouts. Additionally, students will share valuable information and resources with one another through the Discussion Board on the class Blackboard site.

Class Sessions

This is a split-web course design, with about half of the content coming from teleconference presentations, demonstrations, and discussions, and about half coming from the virtual classroom on Blackboard. Teleconferencing will be conducted on Thursday evenings. For the most part we will meet via teleconference every other Thursday evening. Consequently, students will need to follow the instructor's announcements and email messages closely in order to keep tabs on the class meeting schedule. Class sessions will include instructor presentation, fun, demonstration, enjoyment, discussion, laughter, fishbowl demonstrations and role-plays, merriment, video/film viewing, hysterics, and small group activities.

Course Requirements and Grading

*regular attendance and participation	50 points
*powerpoint presentation	50 points
*four quizzes (@ 25 points)	100 points
*midterm examination	100 points
*final examination	100 points

According to this scale, there are 400 total points possible on which your final course grade will be based. A final point total of 360 or greater will earn you a final grade of A, a total of 320-359 will be a final grade of B, and a total of 280-319 will be a C grade. Regardless of the excuse, late assignments will be discounted in point value at 10% of the total points possible per day of lateness.

ASSIGNMENTS AND ACTIVITIES

Class Participation

All students are expected to participate in the virtual classroom community for a minimum of six hours per week. Additional content, assignments, and activities are offered online via Blackboard and email assignments and discussions. All students are expected to fully participate in all online experiences and activities. Participation is evaluated by the instructor on a subjective basis and through Blackboard user statistics available to the Instructor. Participation in both the “real” (teleconference) world and the “virtual” (Blackboard) world is worth a total of 50 points toward your final grade in this course.

All students are expected to attend class regularly and on time. The instructor will usually be teaching from Uvalde and the remote sites should never mute their microphones unless asked to do so by the instructor. Students are required to turn off or completely silence electronic devices such as cell phones, iPhones, iPads, and laptop computers. Any student who uses such electronic devices in class, or allows such instruments to make any sound during the class time frame, will lose 20 points from the participation score. (Silently texting under the desk is also illegal.) If you are using a laptop to take notes in class, remember to silence all functions. If a student’s job requires him/her to be “on call” for emergencies then such arrangements should be discussed and planned in advance with the instructor.

The instructor will maintain contact with students via email and Blackboard announcements. Beware that if you do not check your various email addresses on a regular basis, you will miss important information. All announcements originating from Blackboard will only be sent to your Sul Ross email account. Your routine and regular email correspondence with the instructor is highly encouraged. It is how the professor knows that you are alive, thinking about the course material, and planning on earning a good grade! When the instructor receives your email messages and attachments, he will send a confirmation notice to you via return email within two working days. The instructor will rely on email to make special announcements and/or notifications. Please get in the habit of checking your various email accounts regularly each day, including your Sul Ross account.

All course materials will be posted on Blackboard. You are encouraged to save articles and handouts to your own hard-drive in order to read and study at other times. Please avoid printing articles and handouts unless absolutely necessary. The technology consultant at your site can explain accessing Blackboard to you. You must get in the habit of checking this site several times per week for postings by the instructor.

Random Quizzes

Throughout the semester there will be four random quizzes. Each of these quizzes will consist of 25 objective items (multiple-choice; true-false) and will be posted online. Students will have 25 minutes in which to complete the 20-item quiz. Each quiz must be completed in one sitting. You will not be allowed to log back on to a quiz once you have been timed out. Quizzes will occur on a “random” basis, however they will each be available from a Thursday to the following Sunday. This will give you four different days in which to schedule the time and privacy you need to complete the quiz. Each quiz is worth 25 points for a total of 100 points possible toward your final grade in the course.

PowerPoint Presentation

All students are expected to create an informative and self-contained PowerPoint presentation on a relevant topic approved by the instructor. The topic can be a more thorough exploration of the concepts covered in class or in the readings, or the topic can be something not covered in the course but germane to the study of child and adolescent counseling and psychotherapy. The PowerPoint must be self-contained (audio narrative is required) and include all necessary information (links to video clips and appropriate Internet resources are valuable). All presentations will be posted on Blackboard by the instructor for all students to view. The PowerPoint Presentation is worth 50 points toward your final grade and is due sometime before April 16, 2015.

Midterm and Final Examinations

All students are expected to complete an objective Midterm Examination that will be administered online and be available from March 12-17, 2015. The Midterm Examination will be worth a total of 100 points toward your final grade in the course, and will consist of 100 multiple-choice questions based on the materials covered in the first half of the course. All students are expected to complete an objective Final Examination that will be administered online and be available on Blackboard from May 8-14, 2015. The Final Examination will be worth a total of 100 points. It will cover all topics presented and discussed in class, all materials and readings posted on Blackboard, and various Discussion topics.

Professional Counseling Identity and Behavior

The Counseling Program of Rio Grande College is a professional graduate program designed to meet the standards for Texas school counselor certification and professional state licensure. The Counseling Program does not train students for specific job descriptions, but rather provides a comprehensive preparation meeting the national and state standards of professional knowledge and skill in Counseling. The Counseling Program has specific policies and procedures which provide students with a sequential, growth-oriented progression of courses to take; students are fully responsible for knowing and following these policies and procedures. This is not a singular academic program to prepare students for advanced levels of teaching or beginning levels of administration, but rather a distinctly different profession entirely. Counseling is not an appropriate career field for all students. In the process of pursuing professional training in Counseling, some students discover (or faculty may advise) that they are not appropriate for the Counseling field, nor is the field of Counseling appropriate for them. Faculty of the Counseling Program will provide continuous, honest and pragmatic feedback to each student regarding progress and suitability in this program.

It is the personal and professional responsibility of each and every graduate student in the Counseling Program of Rio Grande College to be familiar with the most current issue of the Counseling Program Handbook. This document details and describes all aspects of the Counseling Program, from taking the first courses to passing the Comprehensive Oral Examination and graduating with the Master's in Counseling.

Unethical behavior (as defined by the Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice of the American Counseling Association) by a student enrolled in any counseling course will result in the exclusion of that student from the Counseling Program of Rio Grande College, and may subject the student to civil penalties as well. Professional behavior is expected of each and every student at all times across all Counseling courses. Failure to maintain professionalism is considered unethical behavior.

Distance Education Statement

Since Play Therapy (EDUC 6330) is a split-web/teleconference course, a large portion of the full experience of this course will take place on Blackboard. Required readings, assignments, blogs, presentations, and videos will be posted on Blackboard. All students are expected to regularly access the class site on Blackboard and participate fully in the virtual aspect of this course.

The policy on Distance Education at Rio Grande College is as follows: Students enrolled in distance education courses have equal access to the university's academic support services, library resources, and instructional technology support. For more information about accessing these resources, visit the SRSU website. Students should submit online assignments through Blackboard or SRSU email, which require secure login information to verify students' identities and to protect students' information. The procedures for filing a student complaint are included in the student handbook. Students enrolled in distance education courses at Sul Ross are expected to adhere to all policies pertaining to academic honesty and appropriate student conduct, as described in the student handbook. Students in web-based courses must maintain appropriate equipment and software, according to the needs and requirements of the course, as outlined on the SRSU website.

Accessibility and Learning Environment

The Counseling Program of Rio Grande College is committed to equal access in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1973 (as amended in 1990 and 2008). It is the student's responsibility to initiate a request for accessibility or modification services. Students seeking accessibilities, accommodations, and/or modification services must contact either the Student Support Specialist on their campus or Ms. Kathy Biddick in the Office of Student Services (kbiddick@sulross.edu), as well as inform the instructor of the course.

The Counseling Program of Rio Grande College is committed to providing a learning environment that is free from intentional or unintentional sexual harassment, as defined below, or harassment on the basis of any protected classification including, but not limited to race, gender, color, religion, sexual orientation, age, national origin, disability, medical condition, marital status, veteran status or on any other basis protected by law. Such conduct is unprofessional, unproductive, illegal, and generally unacceptable. All conduct of this nature is expressly prohibited, regardless of whether it violates the law.

Sexual harassment consists of unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature where such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive educational environment. Examples of sexual harassment include, but are not limited to: unwanted sexual advances; demands for sexual favors in exchange for favorable treatment; verbal abuse of a sexual nature; graphic commentary about an individual's body, sexual prowess, or sexual deficiencies; leering; whistling; touching; pinching; assault; coerced sexual acts; suggestive, insulting or obscene comments or gestures. The Counseling Program prohibits all conduct of this nature whether or not such conduct violates any applicable laws.

Verbal abuse, insulting comments and gestures, and other harassing conduct are also forbidden under this policy when directed at an individual because of his or her race, color, gender, sexual orientation, familial status, age, religion, ethnic origin, or disability. It is the responsibility of each student to conduct themselves in a professional manner at all times and to refrain from such harassment.
