COURSE LEARNING ACTIVITIES, ASSIGNMENTS, GRADING, AND EXPECTATIONS:

LEARNING ACTIVITIES:

Students will be required to meet expectations identified in this course that include synchronous discussion related to specified topics and discussion board that will be maintained on a weekly basis. Discussion will reflect knowledge obtained from required and recommended references and evaluated according to a rubric for discussion board related to ethical issues. A response of "I agree", or "sounds good" are not acceptable entries. Written documents will reflect guidelines prepared by the faculty that clearly address the purpose and inclusions for topics included in the paper. Grading rubrics for professional papers will provide specific direction for the document and APA guidelines that are required for all written documents.

Students are required to participate in weekly, online collaborative activities that explore health care ethical issues in professional nursing and varied health care organizations. Student dialogue will focus on identifying and assessing resources, analyzing ethical situations, and identifying clinical ethical dilemmas that impact professional nursing regulation and management of ethical issues. Students are expected to contribute to the dialogue using critical reasoning, clinical reasoning, and ethical comportment. In accordance with educational guidelines for Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College, students are required to enter dialogue on a weekly basis. If more than two weeks pass without communication with the faculty and group, this activity is not acceptable and will be followed with action in keeping with the RN to BSN Nursing Program Student Handbook. It is important to note that all communication between faculty and students must occur on Sul Ross e-mail and Blackboard. Communication must be a part of the Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College system.

Spring Semester 2017

Class, Discussion Board & Online Seminar Participation:

Students will participate in online collaborative activities that explore concepts and theories in professional nursing and health care. Students are expected to participate in weekly discussion board providing at least two (2) substantial comments each week. One post will address an initial response to a question. The second response will be posted to reply to several responses provided by classmates.

Critical Analysis of Literature/Research: Weekly topics identified in class activities and discussion board will require literature review pertinent for the patient population that each student in the course has selected for their clinical focus. Written and verbal information must be properly referenced. Postings in the discussion board must be referenced using APA format.

Data Base Development:

Students will develop a comprehensive data base that is reflective of the students selected patient population. There are numerous data bases which can be used to assure completeness and assist with development of creative approaches to recording information; however, it is not acceptable to copy a data base from a clinical agency and present the instrument without significant alteration and sequencing of information as identified in the guidelines.

Weekly Documentation of Assessment/Patient Education/Health Promotion

Students will maintain a log/diary to document learning experiences in the clinical setting. Data must be organized around clinical objectives prepared by the student and approved by the faculty of record. Information will be reviewed periodically by the faculty of record.

Clinical Performance/Preceptor:

During the semester prior to enrollment in NURS 4610 Baccalaureate Nursing Practice, each student must meet with the Director of the Program to discuss clinical locations that could potentially meet the student's clinical objectives. Each student must prepare clinical objectives designed to meet clinical course objectives and personal objectives the student prepares after careful assessment of their potential and goals. The faculty of record will assist with development of these objectives. Affiliation agreements must be signed prior to the beginning of the semester as discussed in the Preceptor/Student Guidelines. Each student will follow guidelines presented in the Preceptor/Student Guidelines to plan, implement, and evaluate clinical learning experiences for this course.

Final Complete Integrated Assessment:

Each student will demonstrate their ability to perform a comprehensive assessment for a body system. A body system will be randomly selected the day of the scheduled assessment. Potential body systems include respiratory, cardiovascular, gastro-intestinal, neurological, and integumentary/musculoskeletal as presented in system competencies. Time for the integrated assessment will be presented by the clinical faculty member as arranged in the Simulation Lab located on the Southwest Texas Junior College Campus in the nursing education area. This assessment must be completed prior to mid-term for the semester.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS:

Verbal and written responses to assignments will incorporate evidence that the student has read appropriate assignments and is able to articulate information that reflects individual cognition and understanding of information. All written assignments must be presented in APA format. Any technical difficulties related to Blackboard Collaboration must be referred to the IT resources close to your home address and corrected as soon as possible. Making an appointment with the IT resource and taking your computer equipment with you to the appointment will lead to a successful learning process.

Students are expected to enter into group decisions at the beginning of the semester related to planning synchronous and asynchronous learning activities designed to meet course and unit objectives. Attendance and participation in synchronous and asynchronous student groups are required unless prior arrangements have been made with the faculty of record. All assignments should be planned to meet the deadlines designated on the course schedule. Late papers and make up assignments must be discussed with the faculty of record. Examinations must be taken when scheduled unless previous arrangements have been made with the faculty of record. A detailed schedule of course activities and due dates are included in this syllabus.

Orientation to Course:

It is expected that you attend a nursing orientation at the beginning of the semester unless you have attended a scheduled event prior to the course. Nursing orientation will be held at the beginning of each fall and spring semester and students will be notified by e-mail when we have been notified that you are enrolled in the course. New students come to the Uvalde campus with their personal lap top so IT representatives can assist with access and solve any problems that may exist with the individual computer. During the afternoon, students will be able to meet with faculty and clarify any questions that may be related to course expectations. The Director for the library will be present to orient all new students to the library sources and how to access resources that can be utilized throughout the course.

Each student and faculty member will spend time with a staff member that can assist with the learning process for Blackboard and Communicate. It is important that all participants are oriented to the learning process related to all resources available through the Blackboard process.

Faculty and Student Picture and Biography:

Faculty will submit a picture and summary of their educational and professional experiences that prepared them to teach in respective courses to be posted online.

During the first week of class, each student must submit a snap-shot of picture of themselves with a brief personal and professional biography including educational and clinical experiences and any personal information that highlights why they are choosing to seek a BSN degree.

This feature quantifies how often and when students are active in the course and also provides information if the student has accessed different pages of the course. The Blackboard tracking function may be utilized to verify student online participation.

RULES OF NETIQUETTE:

The term “netiquette” refers to written and unwritten rules regarding appropriate communication on the Internet. It will apply primarily to your interactions on the course Discussion Board, assignments both individual and group, and e-mail communications.

1. Help create a community of scholars by encouraging a cooperative win-win attitude in which all members of the class are willing to work together, each contributing in their own way.
2. Be helpful and be sure to do your part in an online class or in group work so that assignments can be completed.
3. Common courtesy and good manners, along with proper use of grammar, sentence structure, and correct spelling, are essential when taking an online class.
  - a. Use a meaningful title in the Subject line. For e-mail, include course number.
  - b. Use the person’s name you are writing to as a greeting in the first line of the message – this helps ensure you are writing to the intended person (group).
  - c. Close the posting by writing your full name at the end of the message.
4. Do not post anything too personal as all students in the class and your instructor will see what you write and the University archives all course materials;
5. Be courteous and respectful to students and faculty in the course.
  - a. There is a difference between making a statement that is a critical appraisal of an idea and criticizing someone for their point of view as it will be read by others;
  - b. Be careful with the tones of what you are communicating, sarcasm and subtle humor; one person’s joke may be another person’s insults;
  - c. Do not use all caps in the message box (it is considered shouting);
  - d. Do not use language that is inappropriate for a classroom setting or prejudicial in regard to gender, race or ethnicity.
6. Keep the messages you post to the Discussion Board relevant to the course and assignment, and provide a rationale including references as appropriate to support your point-of-view.
7. Avoid duplication. Read the previous discussions before you comment or ask a question as the information may have already been covered.
8. When posting a response, make sure you clarify the post to which you are responding.
9. If the topic you wish to address is already covered under an existing thread, do not start a new thread.
10. When responding to a specific comment, quote only the relevant part of the comment and stay focused on the assignment.
11. Try not to lurk, meaning you are just reading and not participating.
12. Quality of online communications/postings is important
  - a. It is not acceptable to present work or ideas of others as your own. If you quote from a source, use quotation marks and provide the original author’s name, year, and the work from which the quotation is taken. If you paraphrase, use your own understanding of the work if possible and give credit to the original author by citing name, year and source of the idea.
  - b. If the posting is going to be long, use paragraphs;
  - c. Do not overuse acronyms like you use in text messaging. Some of the participants may not be familiar with acronyms;
  - d. Just as you would proofread a formal paper, before posting;
    - i. Read what you have written for content;

SUL ROSS STATE UNIVERSITY RIO GRANDE COLLEGE
RN TO BSN COMPLETION PROGRAM
NURS 4610 Baccalaureate Nursing Practice
Spring Semester 2017

- ii. Rethink what you have written for tone;
  - iii. Reread what you have written for organization and coherence; and
  - iv. Revise what you have written for grammar, punctuation and mechanics.
  - v. Once you submit your work, discussion, or e-mail, you cannot change what you have written.
13. Don't send large files as someone in your class may have a relatively slow internet connection and be sure to check for viruses when sending files.
14. Be patient if you do not get an immediate response to your postings as others may be on a different schedule. If it is urgent, you can contact other students of faculty by e-mail, phone, or text.

ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING:

1. Evaluation of student performance is based on evidence of achievement of course objectives. Students are graded on their attendance and participation in the class discussion boards, online reflections and observations, clinical performance when applicable, knowledge and comprehension of reading assignments and completion of course assignments. Criteria for each course activity and assignments include grading rubrics are delineated either in the syllabus or in the modules.

2. Summary of Measures for Evaluations:

The course grade is based on Discussion Board participation,

ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICY:

The University expects all students to engage in all academic pursuits in a manner that is beyond reproach and to maintain complete honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and out of the classroom. The University may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty, including but not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work, plagiarism, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials. Academic Dishonesty includes:

1. Copying from another student's test paper, laboratory report, other report, or computer files, data listings, and/or programs, or allowing another student to copy from same.
2. Using, during a test, materials not authorized by the person giving the test.
3. Collaborating, without authorization, with another person during an examination or in preparing academic work.
4. Knowingly, and without authorization, using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, soliciting, copying, or possessing, in whole or in part, the contents of a non-administered test.
5. Substituting for another student; permitting any other person, or otherwise assisting any other person to substitute for oneself or for another student in the taking of an examination or test or the preparation of academic work to be submitted for academic credit.
6. Bribing another person to obtain a non-administered test or information about a non-administered test.
7. Purchasing or otherwise acquiring and submitting as one's own work any research paper or other writing assignment prepared by an individual or firm. This section does not apply to the typing of a rough and/or final version of an assignment by a professional typist.
8. "Plagiarism" means the appropriation and the unacknowledged incorporation of another's work or idea in one's own written work offered for credit.
9. "Collusion" means the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing written work offered for credit.
10. "Abuse of resource materials" means the mutilation, destruction, concealment, theft or alteration of materials provided to assist students in the mastery of course materials.
11. "Academic work" means the preparation of an essay, dissertation, thesis, report, problem, assignment, or other project that the student submits as a course requirement or for a grade.

All academic dishonesty cases may be first considered and reviewed by the faculty member. If the faculty member believes that an academic penalty is necessary, he/she may assign a penalty, but must notify the student of his/her right to appeal to the Department Chair, the Associate Provost/Dean, and eventually to the Provost and Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs before imposition of the penalty. At each step in the process, the student shall be entitled to written notice of the offense and/or the administrative decision, an opportunity to respond, and an impartial disposition as to the merits of his/her case.

In the case of flagrant or repeated violations, the Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs may refer the matter to the Dean of Students for further disciplinary action. No disciplinary action shall become effective against the student until the student has received procedural due process except as provided under Interim Disciplinary Action.

ONLINE COURSES:

Web courses (offered online) are not self-paced and require considerable work in order to meet requirements. Students should be prepared to devote approximately 12 hours per week to accomplish the work required for a 3-hour class (i.e. student should devote approximately the same study time for an online course as would be spent in a regular class with outside work requirements—a measure generally calculated at 3 hours outside work for each hours in class.) Students MUST have a reliable high-speed internet connection available on a regular basis for course work and other assignments whenever University computer laboratories are not open. Computer labs are open Mon.-Thurs., 8 a.m.-10 p.m., and Fri. 8 a.m-5 p.m. University computer labs are not open on weekends and holidays, but computers are available at the Southwest Texas Junior College and Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College libraries. A student who fails to participate in assignments during any one work period may be subject to being withdrawn from class and given a grade of F. Students should regularly log in to their class.

DISTANCE EDUCATION STATEMENT:

Students enrolled in distance education courses have equal access to the university's academic support services, such as Smarthinking, library resources, such as online databases, and instructional technology support. For more information about accessing these resources, visit the SRSU website. Students should correspond using Sul Ross email accounts and submit online assignments through Blackboard, which requires secure login information to verify students' identities and to protect students' information. The procedures for filing a student complaint are included in the student handbook. Students enrolled in distance education courses at Sul Ross are expected to adhere to all policies pertaining to academic honesty and appropriate student conduct, as described in the student handbook. Students in web-based courses must maintain appropriate equipment and software, according to the needs and requirements of the course, as outlined on the SRSU website.

GENERAL CAMPUS REGULATIONS AND CONDUCT:

All students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the University's functions as an educational institution. It is also expected that all students who enroll at Sul Ross State University agree to assume the responsibilities of citizenship in the university community. Association in such a university community is purely voluntary, and any student may resign from it at any time when he/she considers the obligation of membership disproportionate to the benefits. All students are subject to University authority, and those students whose conduct is not within the policies of the University rules and regulations are subject to dismissal. Students are responsible for abiding by all published University rules and regulations. Failure to read publications will not excuse the student from the requirements and regulations described therein. The SRSU Student Handbook and other official University publications outline specific regulations and requirements.
