2021 Compliance Report for HB 2504

Overview

This report for Sul Ross State University documents compliance with House Bill 2504 and subsequent rules found in Texas Education Code, Section 51.974 (b) (f). The University's HB 2504 website is located at <https://srinfo.sulross.edu/hb2504/> and is accessible from the University's home page. The website seeks to promote accountability and transparency for students, parents, legislators, the public, and all stakeholders by providing the following information:

- 1) A syllabus for each course offered for credit by the institution;
- 2) A curriculum vita for each instructor of record for each course offered at <http://srinfo.sulross.edu/hb2504/> by the institution;
- 3) Student end-of-course evaluations;
- 4) A departmental budget for each academic program; and
- 5) Marketable skills posted for each academic program.

As evidence of faculty and academic departments' commitment to HB 2504, one-hundred percent of all syllabi and vitae are posted each semester.

Online Syllabus Requirement

Instructors of record are responsible for developing course syllabi. The Provost's office specifies consistent elements for each syllabus that reflect the information mandated by legislation. Those elements include a brief description of each major course requirement, including each major assignment and examination, student learning outcomes, core curriculum skills (as appropriate), required and recommended readings, and a general description of the subject matter of each lecture or discussion. Syllabi are uploaded for the HB 2504 website by faculty members by the seventh class day in a given semester. Public access is available at <http://srinfo.sulross.edu/hb2504/>.

Syllabi may be accessed on the website by Course, Instructor, or Subject. Examples follow:
