

Ana Sylvia Acevedo, Ph.D.

EDUCATION:

Texas Tech University, Ph.D., Spanish
August, 2015

The University of Texas – Pan American M.A., Spanish and English as a second Language, May, 2000

The University of Texas – Pan American B.A., Spanish
May, 1996

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Sul Ross State University – Rio Grande College
Assistant Professor of Spanish from January 2016 to the present

Texas Tech University
Graduate Teaching Assistant. (Primary Instructor) Summer 2012 to summer 2015
Department of Classical & Modern Languages & Literatures.

Defense Language Institute, Assistant Professor of Spanish,
December 2009 to November 2012

Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Junction Texas and Seville Spain,
Fall 2003 to May 2007

The University of Texas Pan America Edinburg, Texas, Spanish Instructor,
Fall 2001- summer 2003

South Texas Community College, Spanish Medical Terminology Adjunct-Instructor,
Fall 1998 to May 2002

Teaching in Public School District:

Progreso Primary School, Progreso Texas, Elementary Bilingual Teacher
Fall 1999 to May 2001

One Stop Multi-Service Charter High School. Mission, Texas,
Spanish and G.E.D. Teacher, Fall 1996 to May 1997

PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS:

Modern Language Association (MLA)

GRANTS RECEIVED:

TTU Hartman Foreign Lang Scholarship

TTU James Pickford AS Scholarship

Sul Ross State University Innovation Grant -5/2019

RESEARCH:

Dissertation: Vírgenes, Ninfomaníacas, Brujas y Travestis: el discurso subversiva de Carmen Boullosa.

Special Recognitions:

Sul Ross State University 2018-2019 - Top Academic Assessments

PAPERS PRESENTED:

Los elementos grotescos en Isabel de Carmen Boullosa,
The University of Texas –Pan American, Edinburg, Texas, 2007

Los elementos grotescos en dos cuentos de Clarice Lispector, Céfiro
Conference, Lubbock, Texas, 2006

Llanto: transgresión de tradiciones, leyendas y mitos prehispánicos

51rd annual SCOLAS conference– Campeche México 2017

53rd annual SCOLAS conference “Las Fronteras que se envuelven en Duerme de
Carmen Boullosa 2019

La inercia, el discurso transgresivo en Llanto de Carmen Boullosa , Tierra Tinta
Conference 2019