Independent Study: Readings and Research

HST 5312 – Fall 2019
Online

Course Description

This course is an independent study. The topic, readings, and assignments will be determined through discussion between the professor and student.

Course Style

Activities will focus on reading and writing.

Importance of Communication

It is vital that students stay in communication with me as the course progresses. Most struggles students have in college courses can be resolved with simple conversations between student and teacher. If there are difficulties with concepts or assignments, it is not a cause for embarrassment or panic but an opportunity to improve skills and expand knowledge. Just get in touch. We will work through the issue.

I try to make communication as easy as possible and keep regular hours when I am available to talk. Since this is a summer online course please email me anytime, and I will get back to you shortly.

Resources

This course does not use a specific textbook. Resources will be provided via Blackboard, so please see the Class Week Resources tab.

All resources provided are for your use in this class only. That is why they are being provided via a password protected system like Blackboard. Do not illegally reproduce or distribute them.

Syllabus

Please keep your syllabus accessible for the entire semester. It will serve as a guide to not only class assignments but also to understand class expectations. If any revisions have to be made to the class schedule during the semester, I will let you know via a class announcement. Students are responsible for knowledge of all class announcements.

Participation

It is important for students to maintain focus on completing assignments. It is best to check your SRSU email and Blackboard daily to stay current.

Student Learning Objectives (SLOs)

- 1) Develop the ability to understand history rather than simply memorize.
- 2) Communicate causes and effects clearly.
- 3) Have the ability to explain the “why” of history instead of just the “who, what, when, and where.”
- 4) Improve short-form writing skills in content, organization, style, and grammar.
- 5) Develop skills in assessing non-textbook material for how it connects to the course content.
