Section I. Course Objectives and Description

English 3312: Advanced Composition is a course which seeks to expand the composition and communication aspects of literacy for students. The focus of this course is rhetorical--emphasizing aims (modes) of discourse or writing purposes: Reflecting, Reporting, Explaining, and Arguing. Beyond these four modes of writing, the students will analyze a contemporary work of literature with research for scholarly, analytical, academic articles by experts in the field and write the Semester Analytical Paper. Within this project, they will also make both personal and cultural associations with their chosen literary piece. Upon the successful completion of this course, students ought to be able to recognize the structures of writing at all levels; incorporate formal and informal research into their writing more fluently; produce more effective writing than ever before; approach writing with greater confidence and energy; improve skills in communication in order to succeed in a global society; demonstrate a knowledge of the writing process, (i.e. gathering, organizing, writing, rewriting and publishing); and master the basic techniques for improving the quality of writing.

Section II. Student Learning Outcomes

Graduating students in English will demonstrate that they can (SLO 1.) Construct essays that demonstrate unity, organization, coherence, and development (SLO 2.) Analyze literary works by applying principles of literary criticism or theory (SLO 3.) Produce research papers that demonstrate the ability to locate a variety of acceptable sources, employ them effectively through quotations or paraphrases, integrate them smoothly into the writer's own prose, and document them correctly using MLA format (SLO 4.) Demonstrate creativity or originality of thought in written or multimedia projects (SLO 5.) Compare/contrast and analyze major works and periods within World, English, and American literature.

Educator Standards: For students seeking certification, this course will cover aspects of the following SBEC educator standards and competencies:

- English Language Arts and Reading 7-12 Standard VIII
- English language arts teachers in grades 7-12 understand oral communication and provide students with opportunities to develop listening and speaking skills.

To be successful in college and beyond, many sources (e.g., Morreale & Pearson, 2008) indicate that communication competencies are essential. Sul Ross recognizes that the current generation of undergraduate university students should receive training to navigate a global world as competent communicators in various contexts and channels of communication.

Through our Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) called Compass, Sul Ross aims to equip students to navigate excellence in the 21st century by developing communication skills across multiple courses. This Languages and Literature English 3312: Advanced Composition course is designed to enhance student communication skills. Therefore, this course has the following QEP Student Learning Outcome:

Section III. QEP Student Learning Outcome

- Cite all information and use quotation marks in your essays and papers that are not commonly known facts.
- "I just knew it" is not acceptable for a sentence like "It was devastating to Shakespeare that his only son Hamnet died young."
- Facts like this one are known from somewhere; they come from some source.
- If a professor said it in one of your classes, put the professor's last name in parentheses in your paper and add her to your "Works Cited" page in MLA style-- shown on the "Course Documents" page for this course.
- Failure to give credit for quoted or paraphrased material results in being dropped from the course with a grade of "F."
- Pleading ignorance of MLA citation style will not be accepted as an excuse.
- If you don't know it, learn it from the documents I have provided you or on the library site.
- Paraphrased material--putting someone else's ideas into your own words--must be cited.
- Put the author's last name and the page number where you found the material at the end of the paragraph if most of the paragraph is paraphrased.

- Students must not use any material to support their claims in papers and essays that are not accessed through the Bryan Wildenthal Memorial Library, unless you have special permission.

QEP MAPPED CLASS CARDINAL RUBRIC

Definition

The process of sending, receiving and interpreting messages through written, oral, or nonverbal communication to effectively convey information, and/or by which two or more people reach understanding.

Framing Language

Communication is transmitted through a variety of modes (oral, written, or visual). This rubric is used to evaluate communication in an academic environment to determine that the central message is conveyed through multiple supporting materials and purposefully organized. Communication in an academic environment includes a variety of written works such as academic papers, lab reports, poetry, webpages, personal essays; oral presentations of sufficient length such that a central message is conveyed, supported and purposefully organized; visual media, including but not limited to posters, PowerPoints, videos, graphic art, and infographics.

Glossary

The definitions below serve to clarify terms and concepts used in this rubric only.

- Organization: The grouping and sequencing of ideas and supporting material. Organizational patterns supporting effectiveness typically include an introduction, one or more identifiable sections in the body and a conclusion. An organizational pattern should be purposeful and make the content easy to follow. Potential patterns might include a chronological pattern, a problem-solution pattern, or an analysis-of-parts pattern.
- Content Development: The ways in which a topic is explored and represented in relation to its audience and purpose.
- Purpose: The main point/thesis/"bottom line"/"take-away" of a message. A clear purpose is easy to identify. For example, is the message meant to persuade or to inform, to report or to summarize, or to amuse?
- Academic Language: Language supporting the effectiveness of a central message is appropriate to the topic, genre/discipline, audience, is grammatically correct, and clear. Language enhancing the effectiveness may also be vivid, imaginative, and expressive.
- Supporting Material: In communication, students draw upon sources to extend, develop, define, or shape their ideas. Digital citizenship, the careful consideration of copyright and fair use of images is important. The student considers reliability of communication to include an understanding of accuracy, applicability, currency, liability, and completeness.

- Technique: Execution or performance of communication skills given the mode of communication. For example, in writing, technique may include mechanics and use of style; in oral communication, it may include nonverbal cues and use of voice; in visual works, it may include the use of the medium.

This Cardinal Rubric was adapted from the Association of American Colleges and Universities oral communication VALUE rubric, the National Communication Association's Speaking and Listening Competencies for College Students, Texas A&M University's Visual Communication rubric, Otis College of Arts and Design's Fine Arts rubric, Lane Community College Communicating Effectively Rubric, and Stephen F. Austin State University's assessment rubric for Oral and Visual Communication.
