Section I. Introduction
A study of the methods and strategies in teaching language arts and social studies in the elementary grades, including vocabulary, comprehension and comprehension development, composition, grammar, and handwriting. Classroom management, instructional materials, curricula, and measurement analysis and response best practices are presented. Activities focus on development of lesson plans, instructional materials, visual aids, and assessment of student progress. ED/EDUC 4308 and ED/EDUC 3308

Section II. Course Design: Communication Infused
To be successful in college and beyond, many sources (e.g., Morrealle & Pearson, 2008) indicate that communication competencies are essential. Sul Ross recognizes that the current generation of undergraduate university candidates should receive training to navigate a global world as competent communicators in various contexts and channels of communication.

Through our Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) called Compass, Sul Ross aims to equip you to navigate excellence in the 21st century by developing your communication skills across multiple courses. This course is designed to enhance your communication skills. Therefore, this course has the following QEP Student Learning Outcome,
Section IV. Student Learning Objectives:

1. Develop and model instructional strategies for teaching foundational components of the Science of Reading to elementary populations to include an emphasis on reading comprehension, oral communication, visual literacy and writing across the content areas.
2. Demonstrate their knowledge in the social studies and English Language Arts content through the development of constructivist learning activities to include the 5E instructional model and project-based learning.
3. Demonstrate knowledge of the role of assessment, key assessment concepts, and the use of assessment results to guide instruction.

Section V. Marketable Skills

1. Candidates will acquire public speaking skills to a variety of audiences.
2. Candidates will acquire writing skills for lesson plans and other scholarly documents.
3. Candidates will acquire organizational skills to effectively manage time and meet deadlines.

STR Standards and Competencies:

Textbook and Materials:

- Binder: Candidates will need to create an organized binder for this course.

Course Format:

- This is a hybrid course 16-week course, with a mix of Zoom, face to face, and online learning activities. Online learning is a very different kind of experience from the traditional face-to-face course. Although online courses are convenient, you will shoulder a greater responsibility for your own learning than you might in a face-to-face course. Online learning will encompass weekly video class meetings that will be recorded in Blackboard Collaborate following the class schedule provided in this syllabus. Candidates should plan to attend synchronous video class discussions.
- A variety of approaches will be included in the online course delivery that includes online discussions, small collaborative group work presentations delivered via Blackboard Collaborate, student presentations provided via Blackboard Collaborate, lecture, gathering assessment data, and observation. Your ability to devote a minimum of 6-8 hours per week to your course work is point one. Assignments will not be accepted after the due date. A grade of "Incomplete" will not be given for this course.
- Successful completion of an online course requires dedication and constant effort. Do not fall behind in your work! Begin your assignments as soon as possible and get at least one module ahead. This will help you avoid the penalty for late work because there are always unforeseen events that arise.
• This course is writing intensive to prepare candidates to administer, analyze, plan and communicate assessment outcomes and planning to stakeholders. It is advised that candidates use Smarthinking for written assignments.
• Submit professional quality work. Have someone proofread your submittals and always use the grammar and spell check functions on your computer before submission.

The standards are also aligned with the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines and Chapter 110 of this title (relating to Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills for English Language Arts and Reading). The standards address early reading content knowledge in Prekindergarten-Grade 5, with an emphasis on Prekindergarten-Grade 3, in order to meet the needs of all learners and address vertical alignment.

(b) Reading Development. The Early Childhood: Prekindergarten-Grade 3 classroom teachers demonstrate understanding of Kindergarten-Grade 5 Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) and Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines pertaining to reading and apply knowledge of developmentally appropriate, research- and evidence-based assessment and instructional practices to promote students' development of grade level skills within the following components of reading:

  (1) oral language development;
  (2) print awareness;
  (3) phonological and phonemic awareness;

QEP MAPPED CLASS CARDINAL RUBRIC

Definition
The process of sending, receiving and interpreting messages through written, oral, or nonverbal communication channels to effectively convey information, and/or by which two or more people reach understanding.

Framing Language
Communication is transmitted through a variety of modes (oral, written, or visual). This rubric is specifically designed to evaluate communication in an academic environment to determine that the central message is conveyed, reinforced by multiple supporting materials and purposefully organized. Communication in an academic environment may include: a variety of written works such as academic papers, lab reports, poetry, webpages, personal essays; oral presentations of sufficient length such that a central message is conveyed, supported and purposely organized; visual media, including but not limited to posters, PowerPoints, videos, graphic art, and infographics.

Glossary
The definitions below serve to clarify terms and concepts used in this rubric only.

- Organization: The grouping and sequencing of ideas and supporting material. Organizational patterns supporting effectiveness typically include an introduction, one or more identifiable sections in the body and a conclusion. An organizational pattern should be purposeful and make the content easy to follow. Potential patterns might include a chronological pattern, a problem-solution pattern, or an analysis-of-partspattern.
- Content Development: The ways in which a topic is explored and represented in relation to its audience and purpose.
- Purpose: The main point/thesis/"bottom line"/"take-away" of a message. A clear purpose is easy to identify. For example, is the message meant to persuade or to inform, to report or to summarize, or to amuse?
- Academic Language: Language supporting the effectiveness of a central message is appropriate to the topic, genre/discipline, audience, is grammatically correct, and clear. Language enhancing the effectiveness may also be vivid, imaginative, and expressive.
- Supporting Material: In communication, candidates draw upon sources to extend, develop, define, or shape their ideas. Digital citizenship, the careful consideration of copyright and fair use of images is important. The student considers reliability of communication to include an understanding of accuracy, applicability, currency, liability, and completeness.
- Technique: Execution or performance of communication skills given the mode of communication. For example, in writing, technique may include mechanics and use of style; in oral communication, it may include nonverbal cues and use of voice; in visual works, it may include the use of the medium.

Cardinal Rubric was adapted from the Association of American Colleges and Universities oral communication VALUE rubric, the National Communication Association’s Speaking and Listening Competencies for College Candidates, Texas A&M University’s Visual Communication rubric, Otis College of Arts and Design’s Fine Arts rubric, Lane Community College Communicating Effectively Rubric, and Stephen F. Austin State University’s assessment rubric for Oral and Visual Communication.
