COURSE LEARNING ACTIVITIES, ASSIGNMENTS, GRADING, AND EXPECTATIONS:

LEARNING ACTIVITIES:

Class Modules are to be completed each week prior to the discussion to prepare the student for the discussion board. Students are expected to contribute to the dialogue using critical thinking, clinical reasoning, and ethical comportment. The class Modules are not graded but are to assist your learning.

Class, Discussion Board & Online Seminar Participation:

The student will participate in online collaborative activities that explore safety and quality issues within the Health Care setting. The student will reflect on past experiences and identify areas of potential risk and measures that can be put into place to increase patient safety. The student is expected to participate in a weekly Discussion Board providing at least two (2) substantial comments each week. First, the student will post an Initial Discussion by Tuesday 2359 PM. Second, the student will provide two (2) substantial comments on at least two peers before Friday 2359 PM. Participation and collaboration is the key to learning from each other. Make sure to answer your peers even though you posted the two required comments. Engagement with the Discussion Board is crucial and very important.

Evidence Based Practice & Safety Tool Kit Project:

The students will utilize the principles and context of evidence-based practice (EBP) as part of a team approach to evaluate nursing practice, policy, and procedure in light of current evidence and make recommendations for change/improvement. Specific instructions will be provided for this EBP & Safety Tool Kit Project. Refer to the course schedule.

Community Project:

The student is required to visit and interview a quality & safety improvement leader in their community. The student can visit the following healthcare agencies: nursing homes, home health agencies, and local hospitals. The student is required to write a 3-page report about the interview process with emphasis on the quality & safety improvement leader purpose, function and role within the organization. Writing guidelines have been developed to help the student know the mechanics of writing a paper. The report will be written individually.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS:

Verbal and written responses to assignments will incorporate evidence that the student has read appropriate assignments and is able to articulate information that reflects individual cognition and understanding of information. All written assignments must be presented in APA format. Any technical difficulties related to Blackboard Collaboration must be referred to the IT resources close to your home address and corrected as soon as possible. Making an appointment with the IT resource and taking your computer equipment with you to the appointment will lead to a successful learning process.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION:

- Readings and learning activities relevant to the weekly topic are identified in the course schedule and modules.
- Scholarly and knowledgeable participation requires that you read your assigned readings prior to joining the class discussions.
- An online course requires participation in all areas for accurate evaluation of performance including responding the faculty requests or communications.
- If you have an emergency and cannot complete an assignment by the due date, you must contact your faculty by phone, e-mail, or text as soon as possible and make arrangements to make up the assignments.
- Blackboard course platforms have a tracking feature. This feature quantifies how often and when students are active in the course and also provides information if the student has accessed different pages of the course. The Blackboard tracking function will be utilized to verify student online participation.

RULES OF NETIQUETTE:

The term “netiquette” refers to written and unwritten rules regarding appropriate communication on the Internet. It will apply primarily to your interactions on the course Discussion Board, assignments both individual and group, and e-mail communications.

1. Help create a community of scholars by encouraging a cooperative win-win attitude in which all members of the class are willing to work together, each contributing in their own way.
2. Be helpful and be sure to do your part in an online class or in group work so that assignments can be completed.
3. Common courtesy and good manners, along with proper use of grammar, sentence structure, and correct spelling, are essential when taking an online class.
 - a. Use a meaningful title in the Subject line. For e-mail, include course number.
 - b. Use the person’s name you are writing to as a greeting in the first line of the message – this helps ensure you are writing to the intended person (group).
 - c. Close the posting by writing your full name at the end of the message.
4. Do not post anything too personal as all students in the class and your instructor will see what you write and the University archives all course materials;
5. Be courteous and respectful to students and faculty in the course.
 - a. There is a difference between making a statement that is a critical appraisal of an idea and criticizing someone for their point of view as it will be read by others;
 - b. Be careful with the tones of what you are communicating, sarcasm and subtle humor; one person’s joke may be another person’s insults;
 - c. Do not use all caps in the message box (it is considered shouting);
 - d. Do not use language that is inappropriate for a classroom setting or prejudicial in regard to gender, race or ethnicity.
6. Keep the messages you post to the Discussion Board relevant to the course and assignment, and provide a rationale including references as appropriate to support your point-of-view.

8 WEEK COURSE FALL 2020

7. Avoid duplication. Read the previous discussions before you comment or ask a question as the information may have already been covered.
8. When posting a response, make sure you clarify the post to which you are responding.
9. If the topic you wish to address is already covered under an existing thread, do not start a new thread.
10. When responding to a specific comment, quote only the relevant part of the comment and stay focused on the assignment.
11. Try not to lurk, meaning you are just reading and not participating.
12. Quality of online communications/postings is important
 - a. It is not acceptable to present work or ideas of others as your own. If you quote from a source, use quotation marks and provide the original author's name, year, and the work from which the quotation is taken. If you paraphrase, use your own understanding of the work if possible and give credit to the original author by citing name, year and source of the idea.
 - b. If the posting is going to be long, use paragraphs;
 - c. Do not overuse acronyms like you use in text messaging. Some of the participants may not be familiar with acronyms;
 - d. Just as you would proofread a formal paper, before posting;
 - i. Read what you have written for content;
 - ii. Rethink what you have written for tone;
 - iii. Reread what you have written for organization and coherence; and
 - iv. Revise what you have written for grammar, punctuation and mechanics.
 - v. Once you submit your work, discussion, or e-mail, you cannot change what you have written.
13. Don't send large files as someone in your class may have a relatively slow internet connection and be sure to check for viruses when sending files.
14. Be patient if you do not get an immediate response to your postings as others may be on a different schedule. If it is urgent, you can contact other students of faculty by e-mail, phone, or text.

ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING:

1. Evaluation of student performance is based on evidence of achievement of course objectives. Students are graded on their attendance and participation in the class discussion boards, online reflections and observations, clinical performance when applicable, knowledge and comprehension of reading assignments and completion of course assignments. Academic Dishonesty includes:

1. Copying from another student's test paper, laboratory report, other report, or computer files, data listings, and/or programs, or allowing another student to copy from same.
2. Using, during a test, materials not authorized by the person giving the test.
3. Collaborating, without authorization, with another person during an examination or in preparing academic work.
4. Knowingly, and without authorization, using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, soliciting, copying, or possessing, in whole or in part, the contents of a non-administered test.
5. Substituting for another student; permitting any other person, or otherwise assisting any other person to substitute for oneself or for another student in the taking of an examination or test or the preparation of academic work to be submitted for academic credit.
6. Bribing another person to obtain a non-administered test or information about a non-administered test.
7. Purchasing or otherwise acquiring and submitting as one's own work any research paper or other writing assignment prepared by an individual or firm. This section does not apply to the typing of a rough and/or final version of an assignment by a professional typist.
8. "Plagiarism" means the appropriation and the unacknowledged incorporation of another's work or idea in one's own written work offered for credit.

At each step in the process, the student shall be entitled to written notice of the offense and/or the administrative decision, an opportunity to respond, and an impartial disposition as to the merits of his/her case.

In the case of flagrant or repeated violations, the Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs may refer the matter to the Dean of Students for further disciplinary action. Students MUST have a reliable high-speed internet connection available on a regular basis for course work and other assignments whenever University computer laboratories are not open. Computer labs are open Mon.-Thurs., 8 a.m.-10 p.m., and Fri. 8 a.m.-5 p.m. University computer labs are not open on weekends and holidays, but computers are available at the Southwest Texas Junior College and Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College libraries. A student who fails to participate in assignments during any one work period may be subject to being withdrawn from class and given a grade of F. Students should regularly log in to their class.
