Course Objectives/Student Learning Outcomes:

QEP Course Design: Communication Infused

To be successful in college and beyond, many sources (e.g., Morrealle & Pearson, 2008) indicate that communication competencies are essential. Sul Ross recognizes that the current generation of undergraduate university students should receive training to navigate a global world as competent communicators in various contexts and channels of communication. Through our Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) called Compass, Sul Ross aims to equip you to navigate excellence in the 21st century by developing your communication skills across multiple courses. This English course is designed to enhance your communication skills. Therefore, this course has the following QEP Student Learning Outcome

QEP Student Learning Outcome (SLO): The student will create works that exhibit skill in prepared and purposeful communication (written, oral or visual).

Students in ENG 3311 will do the following:
1) examine the historical development of children and adolescent literature through the academic lens;
2) analyze pedagogical methodologies inherent in the literature;
3) understand techniques used in the creation and presentation (uses) of this literature, especially those historically proven with both popular and critical audiences;
4) prepare to enter the academic and professional markets with a full understanding of educational and professional expectations within this genre;
5) develop the appropriate language for expert navigation of the genre and the academic discussion of the children and adolescent literature as a genre;
6) prepare professional documents which reflect careful and successful rhetoric;
7) communicate carefully, fully, and successfully via an online environment.

English (undergraduate) Program Learning Outcomes:
Graduating students will demonstrate in ENG 3311 that they can
1) construct essays that demonstrate unity, organization, coherence, and development
2) analyze literary works by applying principles of literary criticism or theory
3) demonstrate creativity or originality of thought in written or multimedia projects
4) compare/contrast and analyze major works and periods within World, English, and American literature.
English Program Marketable Skills:
1) Students will communicate effectively in writing and speaking.
2) Students will use different research strategies to address problems and develop ideas that engage a variety of perspectives.
3) Students will recognize how social and cultural contexts shape meaning and language.

Educator Standards: For students seeking certification, this course will cover aspects of the following TEA educator competencies:

English Language Arts and Reading EC-6 Subject I:

- Competency 004 (Literacy Development): The teacher understands that literacy develops over time, progressing from emergent to proficient stages and uses a variety of approaches to support the development of students’ literacy.

- Competency 006 (Fluency Reading): The teacher understands the importance of fluency for reading comprehension and provides many opportunities for students to improve their reading fluency.

- Competency 007 (Reading Comprehension and Applications): The teacher understands the importance of reading for understanding, knows the components and processes of reading comprehension and teaches students strategies for improving their comprehension, including using a variety of texts and contexts.

- Competency 009 (Reading, Inquiry, and Research): The teacher understands the importance of research and inquiry skills to students’ academic success and provides students with instruction that promotes their acquisition and effective use of those study skills in the content areas.

- Competency 010 (Writing Conventions): The teacher understands the conventions of writing in English and provides instruction that helps students develop proficiency in applying writing conventions.

- Competency 011 (Written Communication): The teacher understands that writing to communicate is a developmental process and provides instruction that promotes students’ competence in written communication.

- Competency 012 (Viewing and Representing): The teacher understands skills for interpreting, analyzing, evaluating, and producing visual images and messages in various types of media, and provides students with opportunities to develop in this area.

- Competency 013 (Assessment of Developing Literacy): The teacher understands the basic principles of literacy assessment and uses a variety of assessments to guide literacy instruction.

English Language Arts and Reading 4-8 Domain II:

- Competency 004 (Reading Comprehension and Assessment): The teacher understands the importance of reading for understanding, knows components and processes of reading comprehension and teaches students strategies for improving their comprehension.

- Competency 005 (Reading Applications): The teacher understands reading skills and strategies appropriate for various types of texts and contexts and teaches students to apply those skills and strategies to enhance their reading proficiency.
Competency 006 (Written Language—Writing Conventions): The teacher understands the conventions of written English and provides instruction that helps students develop proficiency in applying written conventions.

Competency 007 (Written Language—Composition): The teacher understands that writing to communicate is a developmental process and provides instruction that promotes students’ competence in written communication.

Competency 008 (Study and Inquiry Skills): The teacher understands the importance of study and inquiry skills as tools for learning in the content areas and promotes students’ development in applying study and inquiry skills.

English Language Arts and Reading 7-12

Domain I:
Competency 001: The teacher understands and applies knowledge of relationships among the language arts and between the language arts and other aspects of students’ lives and learning.

Domain II:
Competency 004: The teacher understands reading processes and teaches students to apply these processes.

Competency 005: The teacher understands reading skills and strategies for various types of nonliterary texts and teaches students to apply these skills and strategies to enhance their lifelong learning.

Competency 006: The teacher understands literary elements, genres, and movements and demonstrates knowledge of a substantial body of literature.

Competency 007: The teacher understands strategies for reading literary texts and provides students with opportunities to formulate, express, and support responses to literature.

Competency 008: The teacher understands and promotes writing as a recursive, developmental, integrative and ongoing process and provides students with opportunities to develop competence as writers.

Competency 009: The teacher understands effective writing and teaches students to write effectively in a variety of forms and for various audiences, purposes, and contexts.
Course Policies:
1. COVID 19: Safety Pledge - One University/One Community
   As a partner in each campus community, the faculty, staff, and students agree to the following statements in relation to the COVID-19 virus:

   I will wear a face covering, wash my hands, and disinfect my workspaces to protect others from the potential spread of this virus. Failure to do so will be treated as a class disruption, per the Student Handbook, and will result in immediate dismissal from class.

   I promise to follow social distancing guidelines as a way to mitigate the risk of transmission to others both professionally and personally.

   I will monitor my health and report any potential health issues.

   I agree to follow the guidelines set forth in this document or as described by Sul Ross State University to protect the public health.

2. Attendance: Attend class! Successful students commit to attending class regularly. Being a better writer requires you working hard at practicing good writing skills. You don’t have to be super smart to be a good student. You have to be committed.

   Satisfactory attendance does not consist of your mere physical presence in the classroom. You need to come to class, be on time, stay until class is dismissed, complete your homework, finish writing assignments on time, and be ready to engage intellectually with the material, with me, and with your classmates.

   Everything else constitutes unsatisfactory attendance and includes, but is not limited to, absences, tardiness, leaving the classroom early, coming to class unprepared to participate (without materials and/or assignments), sleeping, and/or using your cell phone (turn off before class begins), etc. Part of your participation grade is dependent upon your being in class and ready to engage in class discussions.

   I have no desire to fight you over your cell phones, but think about it. If you don’t want to be in class and if you’d rather be on your phone, then leave class and be on the phone. Don’t interrupt class with your inattention.

   No absences will be “excused” (uncounted) unless they result from your carrying out official, verifiable university business recognized by SRSU. Excused absences will only matter for daily work, and only if you inform me before you miss a class that you have an absence upcoming. Because you have so much time to work on major papers/packets, the due dates for them are still in effect even if you have an excused absence or accommodation. For the Research Presentations, you will need to let me know ahead of time if you have an excused absence that prevents you from presenting on one of the scheduled presentation dates.

   You have paid to attend this class. It is up to you to choose to attend this class. It is difficult to do well in a class that you do not attend. The decision is yours. Should you decide to drop this class, you must do so before 4:00 p.m. on April 1. Remember that the State of Texas only allows you six withdrawals.

   Should you have to miss a class, you are still responsible for everything that is covered in that class. Missing class or being late is not an excuse for missing a due date or misunderstanding an assignment.

   Your classmates are always your first resource. You should feel free to contact me should you need more clarification.

Classmate: ______________________ Phone: ___________ E-Mail: __________________
While I do not drop for attendance, I use your attendance to support my analysis of what is happening with your grades.

3. Late Work: Do all assignments and submit them in BlackBoard when requested. Even if you cannot be in class when the assignment is due, the assignment itself is still due.

   Work submitted after the beginning of class on the date an assignment is due will automatically receive a 10% deduction to the grade. In other words, a grade of 92 will become a grade of 82. Please mark your calendar with all of the due dates for all assignments this semester. Do not put yourself in the position of losing points because you failed to turn in assignments in a timely fashion or did not submit all parts of the assignment. If you are having issues submitting your work on time, then I need to know this before the item is due.

   In order to pass this course, you must submit all major assignments (the Diagnostic Essay, the Historical Analysis Essay, the Research Essay, the Research Presentation, and the final exam) even if you submit them after the last regular class and receive no credit for them.

   In class work/daily grades are not made up. If you have a university excused absence, then I will not count this assignment against you, but there will be no make up.

4. Format: You will use MLA format. All submitted drafts must be word processed. Computers and printers are available to you in the library and the ACR. Any work completed in class must be legible. To receive the maximum number of points, you must follow directions.

5. Honesty: Please remember that real success comes from learning how to do the work yourself. Don’t cheat. A college education costs too much for you to waste your time trying to figure out how to beat the system rather than figuring out how to learn the material. Furthermore, such behavior is dishonest. It makes you look very bad.

   Academic dishonesty may result in your receiving a lower grade for an assignment (up to and including an “F”). A repeated instance of academic dishonesty may result in your receiving an “F” for the course and referral to the department chair. Please see the SRSU Student Handbook for a more complete discussion of academic honesty.

6. Respect: I want you to feel free to speak your mind in this class. However, we will share our ideas in a respectful manner. We don’t have to agree with each other, but we do have to support each other’s right to have a differing point of view.

7. E-Mail, BlackBoard, and Office 365/OneDrive: You will want to check your Sul Ross e-mail regularly. It is an easy way for me to stay in contact with you and for you to stay in contact with me. I will use BlackBoard to send messages to your class, provide you access to class assignments, and post your major paper grades. We will use BlackBoard in class. You need to be able to access both your SRSU e-mail, BlackBoard, and Office 365/OneDrive accounts. If you need log-in help, please call 432-837-8888. Check your access early in the semester. I would recommend that you save your work on Office 365/OneDrive. This way you can access your work from any computer that has Internet access.
Technical Support

The Support Desk is where you can direct your more technical questions. For example, the Support Desk can help you if you are having issues submitting a document, getting videos to play, or using BlackBoard. The support desk is open 24 hours a day/7 days a week for your convenience.

You can reach the support desk using one of the following methods:
By calling 888.837.6055
Via email blackboardsupport@sulross.edu
Using resources from the Technology Support tab within BlackBoard

8. Writing Help: I strongly recommend that you have a tutor look at your work before you turn in the final draft. You have several options for getting help:
   a) Tutoring and Learning Center located in the library. Call 432-837-8982 for an online tutoring appointment.
   b) Smarthinking (online tutoring services available on BlackBoard) – be sure to allow 48 hours turnaround time.

9. Accessibility Services: Sul Ross State University is committed to equal access in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1973. It is the student’s responsibility to initiate a request for accessibility services. Students seeking accessibility services must contact Counseling and Accessibility Services, Ferguson Hall, Room 112. The mailing address is P.O. Box C-122, Sul Ross State University, Alpine, Texas 79832. The telephone number is 432-837-8691.

10. SRSU Library Services: The Sul Ross Library offers FREE resources and services to the entire SRSU community. Access and borrow books, articles, and more by visiting the library’s website, library.sulross.edu. Off-campus access requires your LoboID and password. Check out materials using your photo ID. Librarians are a tremendous resource for your coursework and can be reached in person, by email (srsulibrary@sulross.edu), or phone (432-837-8123).

11. Talk to Me: If you have questions or concerns, talk to me. I can’t help if I don’t know what the problem is.

12. Grading: Be sure to keep all of your graded work. Any time that you have questions about the grade that you have received on an assignment, please schedule a meeting with me to discuss your writing.

13. Reading: This course is an intensive-reading course. Your time management skills are going to need to be top notch this semester. Keep up with the reading. Don’t get behind. Keep up with your Content Study Notebook as the semester goes along. Don’t wait until the end of the semester to input the required information.

Course Assignments:

Diagnostic Essay: You will write an in-class essay.

Historical Analysis Essay: You will write a 2-3 page analysis of an author of children’s or adolescent’s literature.

Research Essay: You will write a research-based analysis of a controversial piece of children’s or adolescent’s literature. Your essay will be 7-10 pages long.

Research Presentation: In an oral presentation, you will share the information that you wrote about in your Research Essay. Your oral presentation will include a PowerPoint presentation that will consist of a minimum of 10 slides with at least one graphic and last from five to ten minutes.

Content Study Notebook: In your notebook, you will document the reading/work that you complete this semester. These materials will provide you with a study guide for the certification examinations.

Participation/Daily Grades: You are expected to have read all assigned readings before each class period. You are also expected to be able to refer to specifics from each set of readings each class day. Over the course of the semester, we will also have quizzes or engage in activities for which you will receive a daily grade.

Final Exam: You will write an in-class essay.

QEP MAPPED CLASS CARDINAL RUBRIC

Definition
The process of sending, receiving and interpreting messages through written, oral, or nonverbal communication channels to effectively convey information, and/or by which two or more people reach understanding.

Framing Language
Communication is transmitted through a variety of modes (oral, written, or visual). This rubric is specifically designed to evaluate communication in an academic environment to determine that the central message is conveyed, reinforced by multiple supporting materials and purposefully organized. Communication in an academic environment may include: a variety of written works such as academic papers, lab reports, poetry, webpages, personal essays; oral presentations of sufficient length such that a central message is conveyed, supported and purposely organized; visual media, including but not limited to posters, PowerPoints, videos, graphic art, and infographics.

Glossary
The definitions below serve to clarify terms and concepts used in this rubric only.

Organization: The grouping and sequencing of ideas and supporting material. Organizational patterns supporting effectiveness typically include an introduction, one or more identifiable sections in the body and a conclusion. An organizational pattern should be purposeful and make the content easy to follow. Potential patterns might include a chronological pattern, a problem-solution pattern, or an analysis-of-parts pattern.

Content Development: The ways in which a topic is explored and represented in relation to its audience and purpose.

Purpose: The main point/thesis/"bottom line"/"take-away" of a message. A clear purpose is easy to identify. For example, is the message meant to persuade or to inform, to report or to summarize, or to amuse?

Academic Language: Language supporting the effectiveness of a central message is appropriate to the topic, genre/discipline, audience, is grammatically correct, and clear. Language enhancing the effectiveness may also be vivid, imaginative, and expressive.

Supporting Material: In communication, students draw upon sources to extend, develop, define, or shape their ideas. Digital citizenship, the careful consideration of copyright and fair use of images is important. The student considers reliability of communication to include an understanding of accuracy, applicability, currency, liability, and completeness.

Technique: Execution or performance of communication skills given the mode of communication. For example, in writing, technique may include mechanics and use of style; in oral communication, it may include nonverbal cues and use of voice; in visual works, it may include the use of the medium.

Cardinal Rubric was adapted from the Association of American Colleges and Universities oral communication VALUE rubric, the National Communication Association's Speaking and Listening Competencies for College Students, Texas A&M University's Visual Communication rubric, Otis College of Arts and Design’s Fine Arts rubric, Lane Community College Communicating Effectively Rubric, and Stephen F. Austin State University's assessment rubric for Oral and Visual Communication.
Evaluators are encouraged to assign a zero to any work sample or collection of work that does not meet formative (cell one) level performance.
