Course meeting times: this is a web course and does not have scheduled meeting times. I am more than happy to schedule individual or group teleconference appointments by Zoom or comparable technology. You are also encouraged to set up online communities with other students in the course. Please let me know if I can facilitate.

Course Description: This course is designed for students preparing for their state of Texas teacher certification examinations at the EC-6, 4-8, and 7-12 levels in history and the social sciences. It will also be useful as a review course for students in related social science fields. The social studies discipline competencies covered in this course include: (1) history, (2) geography, (3) economics, (4) government, (5) citizenship, (6) culture and (7) science, technology, society, and the environment.

Required Texts: None

Primary Learning Objectives:

At the successful conclusion of this course, through performance on a short research paper and objective multiple-choice examinations, the student will be able to

- Apply knowledge of significant historical events and developments, as well as multiple historical interpretations and ideas, to be able to facilitate understanding of relationships between the past, the present and the future.
- Apply knowledge of people, places, and environments to be able to facilitate understanding of geographic relationships in Texas, the United States, and the world.
- Know how people organize economic systems to produce, distribute and consume goods and services and to be able to use this knowledge to enable students to understand economic systems and make informed economic decisions.
- Know how governments and structures of power function, provide order, and allocate resources and to use this knowledge to be able to facilitate student understanding of how individuals and groups achieve their goals through political systems.

- Understand citizenship in the United States and other societies and to be able to use this knowledge to prepare students to participate in our society through an understanding of democratic principles and citizenship practices.
- Understand cultures and how they develop and adapt and to be able to use this knowledge to enable students to appreciate and respect the cultural diversity in Texas, the United States, and the world.
- Understand developments in science and technology and to be able to use this knowledge to facilitate student understanding of the social and environmental consequences of scientific discovery and technological innovation.

To complete the requirements of this course successfully, you must have a Sul Ross State University Blackboard account and be able to access documents attached to this course. See below for further details

Distance Education Statement: Students enrolled in distance education courses have equal access to the university's academic support services, library resources, and instructional technology support. For more information about accessing these resources, visit the SRSU website. Students should submit online assignments through Blackboard or SRSU email, which require secure login information to verify students' identities and to protect students' information. The procedures for filing a student complaint are included in the student handbook. Students enrolled in distance education courses at Sul Ross are expected to adhere to all policies pertaining to academic honesty and appropriate student conduct, as described in the student handbook. Students in web-based courses must maintain appropriate equipment and software, according to the needs and requirements of the course, as outlined on the SRSU website.

ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act): SRSU Disability Services. Sul Ross State University (SRSU) is committed to equal access in compliance with Americans with Disabilities Act of 1973. It is SRSU policy to provide reasonable accommodations to students with documented disabilities. It is the student's responsibility to initiate a request each semester for each class. RGC students seeking accessibility services should contact Paulette Harris, Executive Assistant to the Vice President and Dean, at 830-279-3023 or email pharris@sulross.edu. Ms. Harris's office is at 2623 Garner Field Road, Uvalde, TX 78801 (this is the mailing address, too).

Course requirements, course objectives, and course grade breakdown:

Four practice multiple-choice examinations based on the seven social sciences competencies (50%): The examinations will be 100 points each. They will cover

1. World History, Cultures, and Geography
2. American and Texas History, Cultures, and Geography
3. The Constitution of the United States and the Institutions of the American Government
4. The Economy, Science, Technology, and the Environment

You may take these examinations under the conditions of your own choosing, using whatever resources are available to you (including collaboration with other students) and there will be no time limit. You are free to find the information to answer the questions from any appropriate resource, whether it be materials from previous courses, or the public domain. Part of the exercise is to learn how to find reliable information quickly. You can submit your answers to me, and I will give you a second opportunity to take these tests after I identify the incorrect answer choices. Your grade on your second submission will stand as your grade for the test.

The practice tests will include sample questions from (among other places)

- The Core Subjects, EC-6 Texas test
<http://www.tx.nesinc.com/content/docs/291PrepManual.pdf>
- Texas test, Social Studies, 4-8
<http://www.tx.nesinc.com/content/docs/118PrepManual.pdf>
- Texas test, History, 7-12 <http://www.tx.nesinc.com/content/docs/233PrepManual.pdf>
- Texas test, Social Studies, 7-12
<http://www.tx.nesinc.com/content/docs/232PrepManual.pdf>

Final Examination (400 points) (50%). The final examination will consist of 100 questions drawn at random from the four practice examinations. This test will be taken online using the Blackboard testing tool and submitted under actual testing conditions. The testing window will open at the beginning of final examination week and close at the end of final examination week. Once you open the testing window on Blackboard, you will have 120 minutes (2 hours) to complete the examination.

Grading methodology: All assignments for this course will be graded on a 100-point scale as follows

90-100 (A) 80-89 (B) 70-79 (C) 60-69 (D) <60 (F)

This course will have “soft deadlines” for each assignment. This means that you will not be penalized for late work. However, I cannot guarantee that I am able to provide feedback on late work. Although I am giving you the maximum possible discretion to work at your own pace, I urge you in the strongest possible terms to submit your work as early and as often as possible. All required assignments must be completed no later than 11:59 pm of the final day of instruction. The final examination must be completed no later than 11:59 pm of the last day of final examination week. All relevant deadlines are posted to Blackboard. Good luck!
