COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is an introduction to the principles of screenwriting. Film is a visual medium. Therefore, the writing must describe the things the audience can see and hear. In stage plays, the emphasis is typically on the language. Screenplays frequently contain language too, but they are unique in that they are the blueprint for the moving image. Many compelling scenes within films are told without the use of any dialogue at all.

You will write five short screenplays in this class, in addition to several writing exercises. You will also read some short screenplays so you may learn more about the form and get inspired. This class is an opportunity to tell the stories you're yearning to share. Welcome to the joy of meeting your own creativity. This is where you get to bend the rules of space and time – the only limit is your imagination.

PREREQUISITES

All students must have junior or senior standing, or instructor's permission.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES The graduating student will demonstrate:

- 1) Knowledge of eras and contributions made throughout Theatre History and Musical Theatre History.

Additionally, the graduating student with a concentration in Acting/Directing will demonstrate:

- 2) The ability to express themselves creatively through appropriate theatrical performance the ability to analyze a script.
- 3) The ability to work creatively with actors and technicians in mounting a laboratory theatrical production.
- 4) The ability to apply standard requirements to all aspects of technical production.

Additionally, the graduating student with a concentration in technical/design will demonstrate:

- 5) The ability to apply all approaches to the theatrical design and rendering of the design.

- 6) The ability to address all technical aspects of a theatrical production.

MARKETABLE SKILLS

Strong oral and written communication skills.

Strong analytical skills.

Strong teamwork and collaboration skills

Marketable Skills Dissemination Strategy:

Through a combination of coursework and laboratory work, i.e., theatrical productions, our students will gain the opportunity to explore and develop all three program marketable skills. Specifically, students will learn how to analyze scripts, and communicate their findings via written assignments. They will also be encouraged to support their analysis orally through classroom discussion and their Comprehensive Oral Exam at the end of the senior year. Theatrical productions will provide the opportunity for actors and technicians to problem solve and work collaboratively developing strong teamwork skills.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of this class, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate proficiency with Final Draft software.
- Demonstrate beginner-level craft in writing a short film with a clear beginning, middle, and end.
- Demonstrate beginner-level craft in writing believable dialogue between characters in the context of a short film script.
- Demonstrate beginner-level craft in developing character with clear objectives and an arc of change.
- Effectively analyze the story structure and character development of a screenplay.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS:

- 1) Writing exercises in and out of class
- 2) Writing five short screenplays, the fifth one being an 8-12-page screenplay that will be the “final” for this class.
- 3) Reading two short screenplays
- 4) Reading assigned chapters from the textbook
- 5) Full participation in class discussions. All students must participate in providing feedback to their peers on all written exercises and scripts.

MATERIALS REQUIRED:

- 1) A working Sul Ross e-mail account
- 2) A working Blackboard account
- 3) Access to Final Draft 12 or Movie Magic Screenwriter or Celtx (3rd choice); and
- 4) A working computer and printer with plenty of ink!

REQUIRED READING:

- 1) Johnson, Claudia Hunter. Crafting Short Screenplays that Connect 5th edition. 2020, Focal Press.

RULES & EXPECTATIONS:

1. Assignments are due on the dates specified in the syllabus. Meet your deadlines.
2. Attendance is mandatory. See the info in the syllabus regarding the University's policy.
3. If you want to succeed in this class and improve your screenwriting skills, do the reading.
4. You must read scripts. It will help you become a better writer. Read a lot!
5. Even if you think your work sucks you must hand it in. Most of writing is re-writing.
6. When someone reads his/her work in class, we support it. We start with positive feedback and then ask questions and discuss ways to improve or clarify story.
7. Refrain from using "you should" statements as each writer is developing his/her unique voice and must find the most effective way to tell his/her stories in that voice. Instead, offer a suggestion such as "you might consider" or simply ask a question.
8. All work must be typed and in proper format. Final Draft 9 is available on the computers in BAB 303. As soon as you start writing scenes, you must use Final Draft, Movie Magic Screenwriter, or Celtx. You may purchase an educational license of Final Draft software for $99.99 at www.finaldraft.com. Movie Magic educational license costs 5 cents less, so your choice. For $10, you can download the Final Draft mobile app. You'll need to write your scripts on your phone or tablet this way, but it's the cheapest solution. You must submit all scripts in pdf (when uploading) or hard copy (when bringing to class).
9. All work must be original and must not be adapted from any other published or unpublished written material. Use other stories for inspiration if you like, but no adaptations please.
10. Plagiarizing, cheating, or any other dishonest behavior in the classroom will not be tolerated. Rules and regulations regarding plagiarism, dishonesty, and other issues concerning classroom participation can be found in University Rules and Regulations and Student Handbook. This course will abide by these established policies. A student found to be engaging in these activities, will be penalized to the full extent of Sul Ross State University policy.

11. Turn off your cell phones, laptops, and other electronic devices upon entering class. Be here.

COURSE EVALUATION

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Attendance is mandatory. If you must miss class for a university-related activity, you must inform the instructor and arrangements regarding coursework must be made prior to your absence. If you miss class due to illness, you must contact the instructor before class. The instructor will mark the absence as excused if you provide a positive Covid test, or written documentation from a doctor or other health professional.

Six (6) unexcused absences will result in you being dropped from the course with a grade of “F” as per Sul Ross State University policy.

Arriving to class on time is essential – arriving late 3 times will be counted as one absence. Leaving before class ends will result in you being marked absent unless you have made prior arrangements with the instructor.

Absence Policy, from the Sul Ross State University 2021-2022 Course Catalogue:

Regular class attendance is important to the attainment of the educational objectives of the University. Each instructor will keep class attendance records, and the instructor's policy on class attendance will be explained at the beginning of the semester or term.

A student will be dropped for excessive absences in remedial courses after nine absences.

An absence is defined as non-attendance in fifty minutes of class; for example, non-attendance in a one and one-half hour class will constitute one and one-half absences and non-attendance in a three-hour class will constitute three absences. An absence because of participation in an official University activity is considered an authorized absence.
