DESCRIPTION

This foundational course reveals unexpected or obscure ways in which people perceive and understand their inner and outer worlds. Culture can be defined as traditions and social institutions manifested from human achievements, that can be viewed collectively or individually. Persons have their own individual cultures, and groups have their collective cultures. In both aspects, the conditions permit prosperity. Psychologically, we will investigate behavior and mental processes of groups, and in some cases individuals as they create the lives they choose, and sometimes are forced to live. A multitude of cultures depicting life from distinct cognitive angles and bodily spaces.

COURSE OBJECTIVE:

This course is designed to provide an overview of multicultural psychology and to discuss applications of the material to your everyday life. Research related to multicultural psychology as driven by significant past and current events will be explored. In addition, we will analyze the experiences of human beings from non-dominant backgrounds as well as foster critical thought of a couple empirical journal articles and theories about multicultural psychology.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Throughout the course, you will be encouraged to think about how the research presented can shed light on events going on around the world and in your own lives. Briefly stated, the objectives of this course include (though are not limited to):

1. Cultivating your ability to apply general and specific scientific processes and techniques to answer social science questions.
Method of Formative Assessment: Assignments, group presentation, reflection and exams
2. Examining problems related to social groups and/or events, and employing appropriate critical thinking techniques and skills;
Method of Formative Assessment: Group presentation, reflection and exams
3. Demonstrating ability to work as a member of a team to solve problems and complete tasks;
Method of Formative Assessment: Group presentation and exams
4. Understanding theories of multicultural psychology, highlighting how they apply to behaviors and mental processes.
Method of Formative Assessment: Assignments, group presentation, reflection and exams
5. Understanding how multicultural psychology can inform issues related to restorative and social justice.
Method of Formative Assessment: Assignments, group presentation, reflection and exams

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

1. The text must be obtained (online, offline or older edition is acceptable).
2. Respect for students and lecturer must be maintained at all times when we meet. Respect is a basic human characteristic that entitles each person to their own right and identity. It also helps to nurture a healthy learning environment. If you recognize that respecting others may be a problem, please be courteous and alert me or more suitable personnel (e.g. Sul Ross State University psychologists, family members, lecturers, close friends) and or refer to the Student Conduct and Discipline section of the SRSU Student Handbook.
3. During the course of this class, you may have strong emotional/psychological reactions to the course material and/or discussions. If you feel that you are having difficulty with the learning environment, please discuss this with me immediately before continuing the course. Counseling and Accessibility Services (<http://www.sulross.edu/section/2408/counseling-accessibility-services>) can provide brief, short-term individual and group counseling or refer you to off-campus providers. You have already paid for these services through your Student Service Fee, whether you use them or not.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT STATEMENT:

Sul Ross State University (SRSU) is committed to equal access in compliance with Americans with Disabilities Act of 1973. Students with qualifying disabilities who seek accommodations must initiate a request for a meeting for accessibility services. Students seeking accessibility services must contact Rebecca Greathouse Wren, M.Ed., LPC-S, Counseling & Accessibility Services, Telephone: 432-837-8203, or E-mail: rebecca.wren@sulross.edu

For more information see: <https://www.sulross.edu/page/1384/accessibility-services>

LIBRARY SERVICES STATEMENT

The Sul Ross Library offers FREE resources and services to the entire SRSU community. Access and borrow books, articles, and more by visiting the library's website, library.sulross.edu. Off-campus access requires logging in with your LoboID and password. Librarians are a tremendous resource for your coursework and can be reached in person, by email (srsulibrary@sulross.edu), or phone (432-837-8123)

HONORING ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Any instance of academic misconduct such as (1) turning in an identical written assignment for another course without approval, (2) copying from any source without proper citation, (3) crossing the boundary of what is allowed in a group project, (4) lying in connection with your academic work, (5) cheating, (6) plagiarism, (7) misrepresenting facts and/or collusion are contrary to the purpose of any educational institution and will be dealt with most severely to the extent of the university's disciplinary policy and/or through legal action if indicated. An instructor who determines that a student has been dishonest academically can at a minimum issue no credit for the assignment/exam, and/or pursue more severe penalties, including but not limited to failing the course. Before the penalty is imposed, the student has the right to appeal to the division chairperson or Assistant Provost for the Academic Affairs. Further information about Academic Honesty can be read in the SRSU Student Handbook and procedures for dealing with these acts are outlined in the Scholastic Dishonesty Policy.

Cell Phone and Computer Use - During the entire class period, you should be fully engaged in the day's activity. Please be advised that computer or cell phone use not pertaining to the class activity or discussion will be noted and result in being marked "absent" for the day.

OBSERVING CLASS GUIDELINES

CLASS PARTICIPATION

This is a course that requires online discussion and experiences. Class attendance IS REQUIRED and participation is important. Class participation and attendance will be worth 20% of the final grade, and includes prompt and regular attendance, active listening, writing, participating via an online poll or quiz, and engaging in online discussions. Besides attendance, all other forms of participation judged subjectively by me that showcases active involvement will increase your participation grade. Excused absences due to established religious observance, or emergency, university-authorized, legal or medical issues and events will not count toward the absence limit but do require written documentation. At your earliest convenience, arrange to make up any missing work as far in advance of your absence as possible. If you are unable to attend a class session for other circumstances, please discuss the reason with me and make arrangements with another student to obtain any notes, handouts or assignments you may have missed. Excessive unexcused absences (more than 3 missed class sessions) WILL result in a failing grade for the course.

Online Meetings – Our online Microsoft Teams or Blackboard Collaborate (if Microsoft Teams is not working) meetings held on Monday and Wednesdays 12:30 to 1:45pm. These are mandatory and your video needs to be turned on for this course. I will be elaborating further on the textbook readings and answer your questions about assignments.

DISTANCE EDUCATION STATEMENT - Students enrolled in distance education courses have equal access to the university's academic support services, such as Smarthinking, library resources, online databases, and instructional technology support. For more information about accessing these resources, visit the SRSU website. Students should correspond using Sul Ross email accounts and submit online assignments through Blackboard, which requires secure login information to verify students' identities and to protect students' information. The procedures for filing a student complaint are included in the student handbook. Students enrolled in distance education courses at Sul Ross are expected to adhere to all policies pertaining to academic honesty and appropriate student conduct, as described in the student handbook. Students in web-based courses must maintain appropriate equipment and software, according to the needs and requirements of the course, as outlined on the SRSU website.

THE ONLINE SUPPORT DESK

The Support Desk is where you can direct your more technical questions. For example, if you are having issues submitting a document, getting videos to play, or you are dealing with a technical error in the course. The support desk is open 24 hours a day/7 days a week for your convenience. You can reach the support desk:

- By calling 888.837.6055
- Via email blackboardsupport@sulross.edu
- Using resources from the Technology Support tab within blackboard
- Clicking the Support Desk graphic on the course homepage

REGULAR COMMUNICATIONS WITH THE PROFESSOR - It is essential that you keep me current on your progress and any difficulties you may be having so that I can respond in real time to support your success. GENERAL QUESTIONS are to be posted to a discussion board for all. For PERSONAL or PRIVATE ISSUES email me at alicia.trotman@sulross.edu or call me at 432-837-8147. I strive to respond as soon as possible. If you do not receive a reply within 24 hours during the work week, please resend your email. The most efficient way of contacting me is by email, meeting with me during our weekly Zoom meetings or scheduling a meeting with me at <https://calendly.com/amtsulross-office-hours> which provides you with contact hours for the rest of the semester.

COURSE BEHAVIORS - RESPECT AND DISRUPTIONS

Watch the VIDEO on NETTIQUETTE - https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FWMk_Zv7nB8 and <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=80uRE972uQ0>

You are encouraged and expected to openly engage in discussions, ask questions, share ideas, and express your thoughts in this web-based course in the same manner as in a face-to-face course. Please treat each other with dignity and respect and avoid disruptive behaviors. You are responsible for knowing what behaviors are acceptable versus unacceptable as referred to in the Student Conduct and Discipline section of the SRSU Student Handbook.

CHILDREN IN THE CLASSROOM

The policy described here is thus, a reflection of my own beliefs and commitments to student, staff, and faculty parents.

1. All exclusively nursing/breastfeeding babies are welcome in class as often as is necessary to support the nursing/breastfeeding relationship. Because not all nursing parents can pump sufficient milk, and not all babies will take a bottle reliably, I never want students to feel like they have to choose between feeding their baby and continuing their education. You and your nursing baby are welcome in class anytime.
2. For older children and babies, I understand that minor illnesses and unforeseen disruptions in childcare often put parents in the position of having to choose between missing class to stay home with a child and leaving him or her with someone you or the child does not feel comfortable with. While this is not meant to be a long-term childcare solution, occasionally bringing a child to class in order to cover gaps in care is perfectly acceptable.
3. I ask that all students work with me to create a welcoming environment that is respectful of all forms of diversity, including diversity in parenting status.
4. In all cases where babies and children come to class, I ask that you sit close to the door so that if your little one needs special attention and is disrupting learning for other students, you may step outside until their need has been met. Non-parents in the class, please reserve seats near the door for your parenting classmates.
5. Finally, I understand that often the largest barrier to completing your coursework once you become a parent is the tiredness many parents feel in the evening once children have finally gone to sleep. The struggles of balancing school, childcare and often another job are exhausting! I hope that you will feel comfortable disclosing your student-parent status to me. This is the first step in my being able to accommodate any special needs that arise. While I maintain the same high expectations for all student in my classes regardless of parenting status, I am happy to problem solve with you in a way that makes you feel supported as you strive for school-parenting balance.
6. Don't forget to check out and utilize the ADA-compliant SRSU Lactation Room on the 2nd floor (Room 205) of Lawrence Hall!

LATE ASSIGNMENTS/PROJECTS

You are expected to meet assignment deadlines. Assignments submitted after their due dates will be marked as zero. Late projects or reflections will be reduced by 10% for the first day of lateness and an additional 40% for lateness beyond that for unexcused absences. For excused absences (university-authorized, legal or medical issues), speak with me before the absence so arrangements can be made.

EVALUATION

Assignments – This is an online five question quiz and an assignment given to ensure that you have read the chapter and understand the most pertinent concepts. Thus, try to complete the assignment as we're covering the associated chapter. You have two chances and one hour (60 minutes) in which to complete the assignments. Once the assignments are deactivated during the week of midterms and finals, you can access them to study for these exams.

Midterm and Final Exams - Two (2) exams will be given during the course of this term. They consist of 50 questions each. Thirty percent of the questions for these two exams will be derived from the assignments. The dates of the exams are listed below in the class schedule. Please note that there are no make-up exams unless you are absent due to illness and with documented proof.

Group Chapter Presentation and Handout - At the end of the semester, you will work with a small group to present a current event that is connected to the information in one of the chapters but not documented in the textbook. When you decide on this event, you will also create one short-answer question that will be in the final exam. All these questions will be included in the final exam. You will have some time to work on the project in class. Also, I would be personally available to assist each group during office hours.

Reflection - The goal of this assignment is for you to complete the course with an individual collection of materials related to this course, which are relevant to you. The reflection will relate the information from class to life beyond this introduction and may encourage you to reflect, experience, and critique psychologically in the real world. This is a short paper reflecting your experience with one or two class assignments. You must (1) reflect your completion of the assignment and (2) integrate at least two concepts and themes from the text. This should be at least 500 words and need to be written in a format with reference to the textbook. No cover page is necessary.

No late reflections will be accepted unless due to illness and with documented proof. The deadline for this project is the Day your Final Exam is scheduled.

Extra Credit Activity – These points may be received for participating in up to two of the following activities (5pts/activity; 10pt maximum):

1. Attendance at a public lecture or activity related to psychology, such as drug/alcohol abuse, domestic violence, mental health awareness, a cultural event, religious activity different than your own, etc. Submit a summary to me via email of your attendance at the activity and what you learned from it.
2. Participate as a research subject in a psychological experiment or other SRSU study.

GRADING

Students are expected to complete reading assignments prior to class sessions and to engage in thoughtful discussions in light of these assignments. In addition, students will take an in-class midterm and an in-class final exam (objective short answer, multiple choice and/or essay).
