Educational Impact

TEA requires 10 hours of classroom observation for ED 3302 in Block I. You will complete the field observation hours by purchasing the Educational Impact platform. This platform will give you access to un-narrated quality classroom footage. You will be assigned specific videos to watch and a prompt to write in response to the video. The written response will be graded.

 Below is the payment URL for you to sign up for access to the Educational Impact video library. More about required videos to observe will be provided. https://www.educationalimpact.com/store/sru-alpine/

1. Enter your name and email -- click submit. 2. Complete payment through Paypal - $60 3. Receive an email from Educational Impact with your own personal ID and password www.ei-onlinecourses.com Once you have paid, the Educational Impact team will create the user ID and reach out with a Getting Started email. At that point you will be set to begin observations which are specific to ED 3302.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING

The final course grade will be assigned according to this scale:

A 900-1000
B 800-899
C 700-799
D 600-699
F 599 and below

Course instructor reserves the right to make any changes to accommodate class progress.

COURSE ASSIGNMENT DESCRIPTIONS

- 1. EdTPA Model Learning Segment (3 lessons) students will develop a 3-day lesson segment 300 Points (100 Each)
- Learning Segment Commentary students will respond to prompts tied to the learning segment 200 Points
- Research Based Strategies Project students will utilize sources for researched based strategies to identify key strategies that align to their certification and professional goals 200 Points
- 4. Effective Teacher Essay students will use articles and research to describe the essential qualities of an effective teacher 100 Points
- Observation Field Reports students will document evidence of specific teaching and learning behaviors after watching 2 hours of videos of teaching (Educational Impact) equaling 10 hours of observation. Note: Some projects will be developed throughout the year with instructor input and supports. This list is subject to change at the instructor's discretion.

Turn in all assignments on time. Grades for assignments turned in after the due date will be reduced by 5 points for each day late.

| PEDAGOGY AND PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES STANDARDS | | | | |
|--|---|--|--|--|
| I.001.A | Knows the typical stages of cognitive, social, physical and emotional development of students in early childhood through grade 12. | | | |
| I.001.B | Recognizes the wide range of individual developmental differences that characterizes students in early childhood through grade 12 and the implications of this developmental variation for instructional planning | | | |
| I.001.C | Analyzes ways in which developmental characteristics of students in early childhood through grade 12 impact learning and performance and applies knowledge of students' developmental characteristics and needs to plan effective learning experiences and assessments. | | | |
| II.005.F | Knows characteristics of physical spaces that are safe and productive for learning, recognizes the benefits and limitations of various arrangements of furniture in the classroom and applies strategies for organizing the physical environment to ensure physical accessibility and facilitate learning in various instructional contexts | | | |
| II.006.D | Recognizes the importance of creating a schedule for young children that balances restful and active movement activities and that provides large blocks of time for play, projects and learning centers | | | |
| I.001.F | Uses knowledge of cognitive changes in students in early childhood through adolescence (e.g., from an emphasis on concrete thinking to the emergence and refinement of abstract thinking and reasoning, increased ability to engage in reflective thinking, increased focus on the world beyond the school setting) to plan developmentally appropriate instruction and assessment that promote learning and development. | | | |
| 1.001.F | | | | |
| I.001.G | Understands that development in any one domain (i.e., cognitive, social, physical, emotional) impacts development in other domains. | | | |
| I.001.H | Recognizes signs of developmental delays or impairments in students in early childhood through grade 4. | | | |
| I.001.I | Knows the stages of play development (i.e., from solitary to cooperative) and the important role of play in young children's learning and development. | | | |
| I.001.J | Uses knowledge of the developmental characteristics and needs of students in early childhood through grade 4 to plan meaningful, integrated and active learning and play experiences that promote the development of the whole child. | | | |
| I.001.M | Knows the rationale for appropriate middle-level education and how middle-level schools are structured to address the characteristics and needs of young adolescents. | | | |
| I.001.N | Recognizes typical challenges for students during later childhood, adolescence and young adulthood (e.g., self-image, physical appearance, eating disorders, feelings of rebelliousness, identity formation, educational and career decisions) and effective ways to help students address these challenges. | | | |
| I.002.E | Knows how to plan and adapt lessons to address students' varied backgrounds, skills, interests and learning needs, including the needs of English-language learners and students with disabilities. | | | |
| I.002.F | Understands cultural and socioeconomic differences (including differential access to technology) and knows how to plan instruction that is responsive to cultural and socioeconomic differences among students. | | | |
| 1.002.G | Understands the instructional significance of varied student learning needs and preferences. | | | |
| | | | | |

| I.003.A | Understands the significance of the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) and of prerequisite knowledge and skills in determining instructional goals and objectives. | | | |
|-----------|--|--|--|--|
| I.003.D | Understands the connection between various components of the Texas statewide assessment program, the TEKS and instruction and analyzes data from state and other assessments using common statistical measures to help identify students' strengths and needs | | | |
| I.003.E | Demonstrates knowledge of various types of materials and resources (including technological resources and resources outside the school) that may be used to enhance student learning and engagement and evaluates the appropriateness of specific materials and resources for use in particular situations, to address specific purposes and to meet varied student needs | | | |
| I.003.F | Plans lessons and structures units so that activities progress in a logical sequence and support stated instructional goals | | | |
| 1.003.G | Plans learning experiences that provide students with developmentally appropriate opportunities to explore content from integrated and varied perspectives (e.g., by presenting thematic units that incorporate different disciplines, providing intradisciplinary and interdisciplinary instruction, designing instruction that enables students to work cooperatively, providing multicultural learning experiences, prompting students to consider ideas from multiple viewpoints, encouraging students' application of knowledge and skills to the world beyond the school | | | |
| I.004.A | Understands the role of learning theory in the instructional process and uses instructional strategies and appropriate technologies to facilitate student learning (e.g., connecting new information and ideas to prior knowledge, making learning meaningful and relevant to students | | | |
| I.004.B | Understands that young children think concretely and rely primarily on motor and sensory input and direct experience for development of skills and knowledge and uses this understanding to plan effective, developmentally appropriate learning experiences and assessments | | | |
| I.004.C | Understands that the middle-level years are a transitional stage in which students may exhibit characteristics of both older and younger children and that these are critical years for developing important skills and attitudes (e.g., working and getting along with others, appreciating diversity, making a commitment to continued schooling | | | |
| I.004.D | Recognizes how characteristics of students at different developmental levels (e.g., limited attention span and need for physical activity and movement for younger children; importance of peers, search for identity, questioning of values and exploration of long-term career and life goals for older students) impact teaching and learning | | | |
| 1.004.1 | Analyzes ways in which teacher behaviors (e.g., teacher expectations, student grouping practices, teacher-student interactions) impact student learning and plans instruction and assessment that minimize the effects of negative factors and enhance all students' learning | | | |
| I.004.K | Understands the importance of self-directed learning and plans instruction and assessment that promote students' motivation and their sense of ownership of and responsibility for their own learning | | | |
| III.008.D | Applies criteria for evaluating the appropriateness of instructional activities, materials, resources and technologies for students with varied characteristics and needs | | | |
| III.008.J | Develops the foundation of English language vocabulary, grammar, syntax and mechanics necessary to understand content-based instruction and accelerated learning of English in accordance with the ELPS | | | |
| III.009.F | Knows how to plan, organize, deliver, and evaluate instruction that incorporates the effective use of current technology; knows how to use developmentally appropriate instructional practices, activities, and materials to integrate the Technology Applications TEKS into the curriculum | | | |

| III.009.G | Knows how to promote creative thinking and innovative process to construct knowledge, generate new ideas, and create products (e.g., design multimedia presentations, explore complex systems or issues, and develop steps for the creation of products | |
|-----------|---|--|
| III.010.B | Creates assessments that are congruent with instructional goals and objectives and communicates assessment criteria and standards to students based on high expectations for learning | |
| 11.006.1 | Demonstrates awareness of appropriate behavior standards and expectations for students at various developmental levels | |

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Attend class: Attendance is not optional. Keep up on all readings. Participate in discussions. Be familiar with email and check it regularly. Check the class web site regularly for assignments and updates. Be thoughtful and civil to classmates and the instructor. This class is delivered via an online platform. Please do not be driving, at an event, etc. You should be seated and attentive as any other class.

Email the professor when you are going to be late, absent, or leaving early. If you are late, absent or leave early, you are responsible for what you have missed. Notification does not replace attending class. Materials from each class period will be posted in Blackboard. Any online presentations will be recorded and posted (there is not a guarantee that the technology will work).

If you are absent due to a university commitment, such as participating as an athlete in a game, you must provide the excuse documentation to the instructor in a timely manner.

GENERAL POLICIES

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Cheating in any form compromises your grade and lowers the quality of your diploma. Classmates who cheat may actually lower your grade by inflating grades, etc. Please make a point to read the Student Handbook regulations on academic dishonesty. To clarify, using someone's work without giving that person proper credit (i.e. properly citing them) or passing other people's works off as your own is considered plagiarism regardless of whether you got the material from a book, the Web or your best friend. When you do use something created by another you must give credit (using the APA format) to that individual or organization.

WRITTEN WORK POLICY

Assignments cannot be evaluated if they cannot be read. In other words, all assignments must be typed or well readable. You are expected to use correct spelling, punctuation, and grammar in all your written work. Written work will be evaluated through a rubric and errors that cause confusion or misunderstanding will result in a lower grade. Read your work aloud to see and hear the errors. You must provide complete citations for each source that you use in your written work. Submission requirements will be included with assignment details. Most work will be submitted through Black Board.

EMAIL AND TEXTING POLICY

E-mail is not a substitute for meeting with me during office hours. E-mail should be used to schedule an appointment outside of office hours or for short questions clarifying class assignments or specific items from the lecture. In-depth questions about course readings or an entire day's lecture, etc. are not appropriate for e-mail.

Texting- The above number is my personal number. I work remotely, therefore my personal cell number serves as my "office line". However, I will not respond to late text messages and may not be available on weekends. Please be mindful of dates and times.
