Course Description:

A continuation of MUS 4311, designed as a survey of stylistic trends, principal compositions, composers, and genres from 1750 to the present age.

Required Materials:

Hanning, Barbara Russano. Concise History of Western Music, 5th edition. New York: W. W. Norton, 2019.

Recommended Text:

Burkholder, J. Peter and Claude V. Palisca. Norton Anthology of Western Music. Volume 2 and Volume 3. New York: W. W. Norton, 2014.

Marketable Skills:

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- 1) Collaborate and network with others to achieve a shared goal, utilizing problem solving, flexibility, and improvisation, with consideration for the thoughts and creative processes of others
- 2) Demonstrate proficiency in public speaking and writing about music, especially teaching basic musical concepts to all ages and incorporating applicable technology for presentation and production
- 3) Prepare and perform a program of age appropriate and diverse repertoire, either as an individual or part of an ensemble, advocating for the arts through engagement with and service to the community

- 4) Demonstrate problem solving skills and abstract thinking to analyze compositions and examine their aesthetic through music and extramusical concepts, such as historical context and text setting.
- 5) Display the ability to create and disseminate basic marketing and public relations materials, as well as related documents included (but not limited to) resumes, websites, and digital portfolios

Student Learning Outcomes:

- 1) All students will demonstrate the ability to integrate appropriate musical expression into performance
- 2) All students will demonstrate the ability to research and prepare appropriate program notes for recitals and other public performances, using relevant analytical and theoretical skills
- 3) Students will demonstrate the ability to evaluate and critique a musical performance using relevant analytical and theoretical skills

Attendance:

Regular, punctual attendance is essential if the educational objectives of this course are to be achieved, particularly given its interactive nature. Attendance will be taken at the beginning of every class.

In accordance with the Sul Ross State University Student Handbook, any student who accumulates more than nine (9) absences may be dropped from a course at the faculty member's discretion.

Students are responsible for all class material, activities, and announcements made when absent.

University-excused absences will allow students to make up or complete assignments incurred by absence without penalty. The following instances constitute a university-excused absence: 1) documented illness with note from a medical provider; 2) family emergency; 3) university-approved activity.

University-related activity necessitating an absence from class will count as an absence.

Major tests will be rescheduled in the case of a university-excused absence.

An unexcused absence shall result in a grade of zero for any quiz, daily assignment, or homework grade taken that day.

Unannounced quizzes made not be made up for a grade.

Two tardies shall equal one absence.

Electronics:

The use of cell phones and other electronic devices (computers, MP3 players, recording devices, etc.) during class is prohibited.

Disability:

Sul Ross State University is committed to providing equal access for all students, in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1973. Students seeking accessibility services for this course should contact the ADA Coordinator for Program Accessibility, Mary Schwartz, M.Ed., L.P.C., Counseling and Accessibility Services, Ferguson Hall 112 (Mailing address: P.O.
