DESCRIPTION

My name is Dr. Alicia M. Trotman and I am very excited to teach this course in Professional Issues in Psychology! This is the first practical course you will be meeting as a psychology major where most of the skills you acquire in this course, you will use in your advanced classes and after graduation. You will learn to write in APA style, and your goal should be to master this skill. Also, you will learn how to style an APA research student paper. Thirdly, you will learn about the graduate school application process, or applying for a job. Fourthly, you will step through the tactics for giving an effective oral presentation. Finally, you will learn the techniques for doing job interviews, mastering the professional ‘image’, and finally, setting up an online ‘LinkedIn profile. I believe these objectives are critical because they were critical for myself as a college student. I had no idea how to write in APA style, dress professionally, or give an effective presentation when I entered college. I learned from friends, but never in a formal classroom. I hope this class provides you with the tools I wish I had in my college years!

COURSE OBJECTIVE:

This course is designed to introduce you to (1) the breadth of topics relevant to being a psychology major and exploring personal fit; (2) acquaint you with information about major fields and professions, characteristics of psychologists, and information about professional organizations; (3) encourage you to develop an active role in your education, self-management skills, and information on how to increase your job marketability and success post-graduation with a Bachelor's Degree; (4) familiarize you with the process of topic development and literature reviews, assessing rigor of resources, writing a paper in American Psychological Association (APA) style, giving oral presentations and preparing visual products; and (5) inform you about how to design a plan of study, gain experiences to maximize success, and pursue admittance to graduate school and careers paths with a graduate degree, if you so desire.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Throughout the course, you will be encouraged to think about how the tools presented can be helpful to your own professional development. Briefly stated, the objectives of this course include (though are not limited to):

1. Given the breadth of psychology careers, students can recognize the major fields, identify those that mostly interest them, and prepare a plan to pursue the selected field.
Method of Formative Assessment: Quizzes and Assignments
2. Given the scientific component of psychology as a discipline, students will discuss and review basic psychological research methods.
Method of Formative Assessment: Quizzes, Discussions and Assignments
3. Given APA style formatting and writing, students can rewrite a literature review that follows APA style guidelines to achieve effective communication in written assignment concerning psychological subject matter.
Method of Formative Assessment: Quizzes, Discussions and Assignments
4. Given the prevalence of professional networks and conferences that are part of the community of psychologists and psychology practitioners, students will apply techniques for professional attire and behaviors to aspire towards effective visual and oral communication and presentation.
Method of Formative Assessment: Journals, Discussions, Assignments and Final Presentation

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

1. It is highly recommended to purchase the textbook via Perusall.
2. APA Academic Writer must be purchased since all of the writing assignments will be placed in that platform.
3. Respect for students and lecturer must be maintained at all times when we meet online and in person. Importantly, this class will foster free expression, critical investigation, and the open discussion of ideas. This means that all of us must help create and sustain an atmosphere of tolerance, civility, and respect for the viewpoints of others. Similarly, we must all learn how to probe, oppose and disagree without resorting to tactics of intimidation, harassment, or personal attack. No one is entitled to harass, belittle, or discriminate against another on the basis of race, religion, ethnicity, age, gender, national origin, or sexual preference. We will do our best to embrace the difficulty of fruitfully discussing controversial and sensitive issues. Respect is a basic human characteristic that entitles each person to their own rights and identity. It also helps to nurture a healthy learning environment. If you recognize that respecting others may be a problem, please be courteous and alert me or more suitable personnel (e.g. Sul Ross State University psychologists, family members, lecturers, close friends) and or refer to the Student Conduct and Discipline section of the SRSU Student Handbook.

HONORING ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Students in this class are expected to demonstrate scholarly behavior and academic honesty in the use of intellectual property. A scholar is expected to be punctual, prepared, and focused; meaningful and pertinent participation is appreciated. Students should submit work that is their own and avoid the temptation to engage in behaviors that violate academic integrity, such as turning in work as original that was used in whole or part for another course and/or professor; turning in another person's work as one's own; copying from professional works or internet sites without citation; collaborating on a course assignment, examination, or quiz when collaboration is forbidden. Other instances of academic misconduct are lying in connection with your academic work, cheating, misrepresenting facts and/or collusion and using open AI sources unless permission is expressly given for an assignment or course. Violations of academic integrity can result in failing assignments, failing a class, and/or more serious university consequences. These behaviors also erode the value of college degrees and higher education overall. All these are contrary to the purpose of any educational institution and will be dealt with most severely to the extent of the university's disciplinary policy and/or through legal action if indicated. An instructor who determines that a student has been dishonest academically can at a minimum issue no credit for the assignment/exam, and/or pursue more severe penalties, including but not limited to failing the course. Further information about Academic Honesty can be read in the SRSU Student Handbook.

MARKETABLE SKILLS

1. Speaking Effectively: Students will demonstrate competency in public speaking and communicating scientific information to diverse audiences.

2. Describing Feelings: Students will demonstrate empathic or active listening and conversational skills, and/or write clearly about their affective stance, respectfully attuned to the needs of their audiences.
3. Identifying Resources: Students will demonstrate the aptitude to locate, organize and evaluate the credibility of information from multiple sources.
4. Analyzing: Students will demonstrate ability to examine the underlying issues of a scientific problem, attending to the pertinent details and creating a plan of action, recognizing ambiguity and complexity as essential components.

OBSERVING CLASS GUIDELINES

CLASS PARTICIPATION

This is a course that requires in class, hands on experience and discussion. Class attendance IS REQUIRED and participation is important. Class participation and attendance will be worth 20% of the final grade. The percentage is considerable so your presence will help your ability to complete all of assignments for this class.

Participation: This is an in-class and online course. Class attendance is governed by the SRSU Undergraduate Academic Regulations policy stated in the schedule of classes. At your earliest convenience, arrange to make up any missing work as far in advance of your absence as possible. If you are unable to participate online and in class frequently (every week), please discuss the reason with me and arrange to review the online notes, handouts or assignments you may have missed. Excused absences entail established religious observance, or providing emergency, university-authorized, legal, or medical documentation. Excessive unexcused absences (more than 6 missed class sessions) will result in a failing grade for the course. Your active, daily participation in this course is essential and required in order to be successful, including checking email daily, checking for Black Board announcements, staying up with readings and participating in class. Besides attendance, all other forms of participation judged subjectively by me that showcases active involvement will increase your participation grade.

Distance Education Statement: Students enrolled in distance education courses have equal access to the university's academic support services, such as library resources, online databases, and instructional technology support. For more information about accessing these resources, visit the SRSU website. Students should correspond using Sul Ross email accounts and submit online assignments through Blackboard, which requires a secure login. Students enrolled in distance education courses at Sul Ross are expected to adhere to all policies pertaining to academic honesty and appropriate student conduct, as described in the student handbook. Students in web-based courses must maintain appropriate equipment and software, according to the needs and requirements of the course, as outlined on the SRSU website. Directions for filing a student complaint are located in the student handbook SRSU Student Handbook.

Regular communications with the professor: It is essential that you keep me current on your progress and any difficulties you may be having so that I can respond in real time to support your success. The most efficient way of contacting me is the VIRTUAL OFFICE on Black Board and/or the syllabus which provides you with contact hours for the rest of the semester. GENERAL QUESTIONS are to be posted in the Messages board on our Blackboard course. For PERSONAL or PRIVATE ISSUES email me at alicia.trotman@sulross.edu or call me at (432-837-8147) or make an appointment with me (<https://calendly.com/amtsulross/office-hours-appointment>) or text me on Microsoft Teams. I strive to respond as soon as possible. If you do not receive a reply within 48 hours during the work week, please resend your email or text me.

Course Behaviors - Respect and Disruptions: Watch the VIDEO on NETTIQUETTE - https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FWMk\_Zv7nB8 and <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=80uRE972uQ0>. You are encouraged and expected to openly engage in discussions, ask questions, share ideas, and express your thoughts in this web-based course in the same manner as in a face-to-face course, to the extent that we need to return online fully. Please treat each other with dignity and respect and avoid disruptive behaviors. You are responsible for knowing what behaviors are acceptable versus unacceptable as referred to in the Student Conduct and Discipline section of the SRSU Student Handbook.

Cell phone and computer use: During the entire class period, you should be fully engaged in the class's activity. Laptop computers or phones are welcomed for the academic purposes of note taking or following along with the instructor's lesson. Off-topic activity (e.g., reading texts or posts, checking email, game playing) not directly related to the class is considered extremely disrespectful and can result in being marked "absent" for the day.

CHILDREN IN THE CLASSROOM

The policy described here is thus, a reflection of my own beliefs and commitments to student, staff, and faculty parents.

1. All exclusively nursing/breastfeeding babies are welcome in class as often as is necessary to support the nursing/breastfeeding relationship. Because not all nursing parents can pump sufficient milk, and not all babies will take a bottle reliably, I never want students to feel like they have to choose between feeding their baby and continuing their education. You and your nursing baby are welcome in class anytime.
2. For older children and babies, I understand that minor illnesses and unforeseen disruptions in childcare often put parents in the position of having to choose between missing class to stay home with a child and leaving him or her with someone you or the child does not feel comfortable with. While this is not meant to be a long-term childcare solution, occasionally bringing a child to class in order to cover gaps in care is perfectly acceptable.
3. I ask that all students work with me to create a welcoming environment that is respectful of all forms of diversity, including diversity in parenting status.
4. In all cases where babies and children come to class, I ask that you sit close to the door so that if your little one needs special attention and is disrupting learning for other students, you may step outside until their need has been met. Non-parents in the class, please reserve seats near the door for your parenting classmates.
5. Finally, I understand that often the largest barrier to completing your coursework once you become a parent is the tiredness many parents feel in the evening once children have finally gone to sleep. The struggles of balancing school, childcare and often another job are exhausting! I hope that you will feel comfortable disclosing your student-parent status to me. This is the first step in my being able to accommodate any special needs that arise. While I maintain the same high expectations for all student in my classes regardless of parenting status, I am happy to problem solve with you in a way that makes you feel supported as you strive for school-parenting balance.

Don't forget to check out and utilize the ADA-compliant SRSU Lactation Room on the 2nd floor (Room 205) of Lawrence Hall!

LATE ASSIGNMENTS/PROJECTS/QUIZZES

You are expected to meet assignments, quiz, discussion, and journal deadlines. Quizzes and journal posts submitted after their due dates will be marked as zero. Late assignments will be reduced by 10% of the overall assignment for the first day of lateness and 40% for lateness beyond that for unexcused absences. In other words, your grade for assignments will be reduced by 50% with excessive unexcused absences. For excused absences (university-authorized, legal or medical issues), speak with me before the absence so arrangements can be made.

EVALUATION

Quizzes – These two quizzes are marked as (Q) below in the course schedule. These quizzes are given to ensure that you have read the assigned reading and understand the most pertinent concepts. These quizzes are available for the duration of the course but must be completed by Monday November 25th (before Thanksgiving). They will be marked as zero after this date. You have only two chances to complete the quizzes.

Assignments – These fifteen (15) assignments are marked as (A) below and in the course schedule. These assignments are designed to challenge you to use your critical thinking skills, and to gain a stronger understanding of your role pursuing psychology as a major, and to perfect the skills to be successful.

Journals – These five (5) journal entries are marked as (J) below and in the course schedule. Your journal entries will not be shared with other students in the class, so you can choose to write freely. Your journal is available for the duration of the course but must be completed by Monday November 25th (before Thanksgiving). They will be marked as zero after this date. A rubric is provided to assess how journal entries are scored.

APA Literature Review – This review will include an opening paragraph with a hypothesis or research question, support or opposition to your hypothesis, and a conclusion. This review must be edited in APA style and be at least 1000 words long. This is due on Thursday December 5th.

Final Professional Presentation – You will present your plan for what you have chosen to do once you graduate and your LinkedIn Profile. In terms of your plan, you will show the selected school or company/organization and present the plan you are taking to apply. This professional presentation will be 8 to 10 minutes long.
