Office: LH 208

Office Hours: Tuesday 3:30 to 5; Wednesday 3:30 to 5; and by appointment

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course will briefly explore the fascinating and complex history of the United States from its colonial beginnings to the early decades of the nineteenth century. We will delve into the diverse experiences of the people who shaped this nation, examining the social, political, economic, and cultural forces that drove its development, by reading foundational texts from award-winning historians. Students will also complete a research paper on a topic of their choosing and analyze it with primary and secondary sources.

REQUIRED TEXTS:

Cronon, William. Changes in the Land: Indians, Colonists, and the Ecology of New England. New York: Hill & Wang, 2003. ISBN-13 : 978-0809016341

Morgan, Edmund S. American Slavery, American Freedom. New York: W. W. Norton & Company, 2003. ISBN-13 : 978-0393324945.

Wood, Gordon S. The Radicalism of the American Revolution. New York: Alfred A. Knopf, 1991. ISBN: 9780679736882.

Fenn, Elizabeth. Pox Americana: The Great Smallpox Epidemic of 1775-82. New York: Will and Wang, 2002. ISBN-13 : 978-0809078219

Ulrich, Laurel Thatcher. A Midwife's Tale: The Life of Martha Ballard, Based on Her Diary, 1785-1812. New York: Knopf, 1990. ISBN 9780679733768

NOTE: Supplemental primary and secondary readings will also be required. These readings will be uploaded to Blackboard for you to download, or they will be provided by the professor.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES:

The graduating student in history will be able to:

1. The history student will demonstrate historical research skills in a logically organized, written paper that is mechanically correct and supported by relevant documentation of historical content.

 - Students can develop a multicultural perspective necessary for an increasing globalized world.
 - Students can learn how to manage and absorb various perspectives and information.

The Student Learning Outcomes will be measured by the administration of exams, book reviews, presentations, and research papers.

GOALS OF THIS COURSE:

At the end of this course, the student should have a greater appreciation of the colonial foundations that led to revolution and built a new nation. They will also:

1. Students will gain a comprehensive understanding of the major events and figures of Colonial America and the Early Republic.
2. Students will be able to analyze primary and secondary sources to critically evaluate historical arguments.
3. Students will develop an understanding of the diverse perspectives and experiences of the people who lived in this period.
4. Students will be able to apply historical concepts and methodologies to contemporary issues.

COURSE POLICIES:

1. Attendance: This is a web-delivered course designed to be an independent study. As such, we will not have regular virtual meetings unless individual students request them. You are responsible for keeping up with the assignments and syllabus. Responsibilities for notifying faculty for arranging potential make-ups rest with the students. If you miss an assignment, you must contact me directly via email with an explanation.

2. Contacting the Instructor: The instructor's email is the preferred method of contact. Students should use the phone number only for emergency situations but note that not all phone messages will be returned.

All email messages to the instructor should include your name, your class section number, and a simple message stating the reason you are contacting the instructor. During the week, emails will normally be answered within twenty-four hours. Emails that arrive late Friday afternoon, Saturday, or Sunday most likely will not receive a reply until Monday, but you may send an email at any time.

3. Make-Up Policy: I will give make-up assignments only in extreme cases. Students who are unable to complete an assignment on the due date must notify the professor by email or phone within 48 hours. Students who do not give such notification and provide documentation will not be allowed to take to make-up the assignment.
4. Late assignments: Late assignments incur a 10-point penalty for every 24-hour period that passes from the due date and time until the instructor receives the assignment, unless other arrangements have been made.
5. Your Responsibilities: Each student has individual responsibilities that go beyond simply showing up for class and completing the assignments.

- a. Mutual courtesy and respect: Courtesy and respect for others are essential elements of the academic culture. The academic environment welcomes a difference of opinion, discourse, and debate within a civil environment, and we will all engage in mutual courtesy and respect for one another. To that end, address comments to the entire class rather than to adjacent students, and remember the Golden Rule—treat others as you would like to be treated.
 - b. Academic calendar and course information: Students also have a responsibility to be familiar with the key dates on the academic calendar (such as deadlines for dropping the course and the first and last days of class) in addition to course-specific information (such as exam dates and all other course requirements as outlined in the syllabus).
6. Academic Misconduct: Any act that violates the academic integrity of the institution is considered academic misconduct. Violation of college, state, or federal standards with regard to plagiarism, cheating, or falsification of official records will not be tolerated. Students violating such standards will be subject to discipline as outlined in the Student Handbook. Anyone caught engaging in academic misconduct in an exam or assignment will automatically receive an “F.” Specific examples of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to:
- a. Cheating: Copying from another student’s test paper, laboratory report, other report, or computer files and listings; Using, during any academic exercise, material and/or devices not authorized by the person in charge of the test; Collaborating with or seeking aid from another student during a test or laboratory without permission; Knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, or soliciting in its entirety or in part, the contents of a test or other assignment unauthorized for release; Substituting for another student or permitting another student to substitute for oneself.
 - b. Plagiarism: The appropriation, theft, purchase or obtaining by any means another’s work, and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of that work as one’s own offered for credit. Appropriation includes the quoting or paraphrasing of another’s work without giving credit therefore. Importantly—AI Generated Content is considered plagiarized!
 - c. Collusion: The unauthorized collaboration with another in preparing work offered for credit.

Statement on Academic Honesty: “The University expects all students to engage in all academic pursuits in a manner that is beyond reproach and to maintain complete honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and out of their classroom. The University may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty, including but not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work, plagiarism, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials.”
—Excerpt from the Student Handbook

*NOTICE TO STUDENTS: At certain times this semester, we will be discussing historical events that may be disturbing, even traumatizing, to some students. If you suspect that specific material is likely to be emotionally challenging for you, I am happy to discuss any concerns you may have before the subject comes up in class. Likewise, if you ever wish to discuss your personal reactions to course material with me individually, I welcome such discussions as an appropriate part of our classwork.

ASSIGNMENTS:

1. Introductory Post: On Blackboard, please post a brief introduction of yourself. There is no limit here of what you can include—favorite food, music, family (including furry ones), hobbies, etc. Please do include what you consider to be your favorite era of American history along with what you would like to do with your MA.
2. Book Notes: Prior to submitting your book review, you will be required to submit book notes on each of the four books we will read this term. Your book notes should include the author’s overall thesis as well as a chapter-by-chapter summary of the book’s content.
3. Book Reviews: All students will read five books and write a book review on each of the books listed above. A handout will be provided on how to write a successful book review along with guidelines of what is expected. Book reviews must be no more or no less than three pages.
4. Reflection Paper: After reading two articles on Blackboard, you will post a brief reflection with a prompt provided on Blackboard. You will be required to comment on your colleagues’ reflections as well.
5. Final Paper: Students will select any topic, person, or event pertaining to Colonial America or the Early Republic. The sky is the limit! Guidelines will be posted on Blackboard. These research papers will be between 10 to 15 pages. This will count as the final exam for this course.

GRADES:

Students can earn a possible 1,000 points by the end of this course.

Final grades will be determined as follows:

Introductory Post	5 pts.
Book Notes (5 @ 40 pts. each)	200 pts.
Book Review (5 @ 90 pts. each)	450 pts.
Reflection Paper	50 pts.
Research Paper	300 pts.
Total Possible	1,005 pts.

Grade Breakdown:

1,000 to 900 pts.	A
890 to 800 pts.	B

790 to 700 pts.	C
690 to 600 pts.	D
590 <	F

A Range = Outstanding. All assignments are turned in on time and reflect thoughtful and analytical thinking with a thorough understanding of historical events and trends.

B Range = All assignments are turned in on time and are above average but are not outstanding work. They demonstrate an understanding of historical events, but the analytical thinking is weaker than that for an "A."

C Range = Average. Assignments indicate an average understanding of historical events. Work tends to be narrative rather than analytical.

D Range = Below average. Writing is mostly narrative. There is no analysis and narrowly answers the question assigned. Assignments are incomplete.

F Range = Fail. Assignments are not turned in or are late without the instructor's approval. They are substantially below average and fail to answer the questions. Plagiarizing, of course, will result in disciplinary action.

Students with Disabilities:

Sul Ross State University is committed to equal access in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1973. It is Sul Ross State University policy to provide reasonable accommodations to students with disabilities. It is the student's responsibility to initiate a request for accessibility services. Students seeking accessibility services must contact Mary Schwartz, M. Ed., L.P.C, in Counseling and Accessibility Services, Ferguson Hall, Room 112. The mailing address is P.O. Box C-122, Sul Ross State University, Alpine, Texas 79832. Telephone: 432-837-8691. Email: mschwartz@sulross.edu

Adequate time must be allowed to arrange accommodations. Accommodations are not retroactive; therefore, students should contact Accessibility Services as soon as possible in the academic term for which they are seeking accommodations. Each eligible student is responsible for presenting relevant, verifiable, professional documentation and/or assessment reports.

Classroom Climate of Respect:

This class will foster free expression, critical investigation, and the open discussion of ideas. This means that all of us must help create and sustain an atmosphere of tolerance, civility, and respect for the viewpoints of others. Similarly, we must all learn how to probe, oppose and disagree without resorting to tactics of intimidation, harassment, or personal attack. No one is entitled to harass, belittle, or discriminate against another on the basis of race, religion, ethnicity, age, gender, national origin, or sexual preference. Still, we will not be silenced by the difficulty of fruitfully discussing politically sensitive issues.

SRSU Distance Education Statement:

Students enrolled in distance education courses have equal access to the university's academic support services, such as library resources, online databases, and instructional technology support. For more information about accessing these resources, visit the SRSU website. Students should correspond using Sul Ross email accounts and submit online assignments through Blackboard, which requires secure login. Students enrolled in distance education courses at Sul Ross are expected to adhere to all policies pertaining to academic honesty and appropriate student conduct, as described in the student handbook. Students in web-based courses must maintain appropriate equipment and software, according to the needs and requirements of the course, as outlined on the SRSU website. Directions for filing a student complaint are located in the student handbook.

Library Information:

The Bryan Wildenthal Memorial Library in Alpine offers FREE resources and services to the entire SRSU community. Access and borrow books, articles, and more by visiting the library's website, library.sulross.edu. Off-campus access requires logging in with your LobolD and password. Librarians are a tremendous resource for your coursework and can be reached in person, by email (srsulibrary@sulross.edu), or phone (432-837-8123).
