Course Description

An introduction to social issues in sport, exercise, and physical activity. The course examines the dynamic relationship between society, culture, and sport. It highlights how we assign sports meaning, integrate them into life, and create policies for them. Specific topics include youth sports, deviance culture, violence, gender, race, ethnicity, social class, ability, economics, media, and politics all in the context of sport.

Purpose of the Course

The purpose of this class is to systematically explore the complex relationships between sports, cultures, and societies.

Student Learning Outcomes

The learning activities, assignments, and exams in this course are constructed to assess each student's mastery of the following learning outcomes. They are chosen from the "Guidelines for Teaching Undergraduate Sport Sociology". National Association for Sport and Physical Education. (2009). Guidelines for teaching undergraduate sport sociology [Guidance document]. Reston, VA: Author.

By the end of the course:

- A. Students should know that historical variations exist in the ways that sports have been organized and played in the United States and other societies, and that these variations are related to issues of power and authority at particular points in time.
- B. Students should understand the focus of a sociological approach and know why it's important to study social patterns as well as individual actions in connection with sports in society.
- C. Students should understand the meaning of ideology and be able to identify basic ideas and beliefs that constitute dominant ideologies related to sports, gender and sexuality, race/ethnicity/skin color, social class, and (dis)ability in American society.
- D. Students should be able to identify the ways that sports are connected with other major spheres of social life, such as family, education, the economy, media, politics and religion.
- E. Students should be able to identify the conditions under which sport participation promotes health and personal well-being and the conditions under which it has negative health outcomes.
- F. Students should understand the ways that power relations related to gender, race/ethnicity, social class, and (dis)ability have influenced sports and sport participation in the United States.
- G. Students should understand that many factors influence people's actions associated with sport, and that sport serves as a site where many people view deviance and violence differently than they do in other spheres of social life.
- H. Students should understand the basic economic and political factors that influence sport on a global level.
- I. Students should understand the ways that social change occurs in connection with sport.

Marketable Skills

The following marketable skills are met in this course:

- Communication: Students will communicate verbally and in written assignments throughout the course.
- Collaboration: Students will interact with one another through class discussions and activities.

- Creativity: Students will develop responses and ideas during discussions and class projects about past, current, and future situations.
- Critical Thinking: Students will exercise sound reasoning to analyze issues, make decisions, and overcome problems. Students will be able to obtain, interpret, and use knowledge, facts, and data in this process, and may demonstrate originality and inventiveness.

MY COURSE POLICIES

Communication is key.

I expect you to attend class (by physically attending and by logging in to Blackboard), engage, and complete your work by the deadlines assigned. However, I understand that extenuating circumstances can occur. Therefore, I expect you to inform me as soon as possible if you are having complications completing your work in a timely manner. With communication, we can work out a plan for your success. If you do not meet my expectations, and you do not communicate with me, there is nothing I can do to help you succeed. It is YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to communicate with me.

After 4 undocumented absences, your final grade is reduced by an entire letter grade.

Studies show that students have better grades when they attend class! So, please attend class. If you miss more than 4 classes without a documentation provided to the professor, your final grade in the class will be reduced by an entire letter grade. For example, if you have an A in the class but miss 5 classes without telling the professor, your final grade will be reduced to a B. Please make sure to communicate often and early with your professor, especially concerning absences.

I do not accept late work.

If you do not turn in an assignment on time, you will receive a zero for that assignment. I understand extenuating circumstances can occur. Therefore, any extensions must be requested at least 24 hours in advance of the due date.

I have zero tolerance for cheating, academic dishonesty, and plagiarism. The use of AI is prohibited unless specified.

For any student who cheats, is suspected of cheating, or who unintentionally or intentionally plagiarizes (this includes the use of AI), I immediately contact the Dean of Student Affairs, and the student receives a zero for the work. There are no exceptions. Please use anti-plagiarism software before turning in any assignment to avoid any consequences. If you need a review on how to avoid plagiarism and cite sources correctly, please visit the Lobo Den: <https://www.sulross.edu/student-advicing/lobo-den/> The use of AI to complete work in this class is prohibited unless specified.

This is not a self-paced course. Deadlines are hard deadlines.

Please be vigilant of the course schedule and deadlines. You are responsible for your participation and work. If you expect to miss any deadline, you must contact me at least 24 hours in advance to work out a plan for your success. If you contact me after a deadline, there is nothing I can do; you will receive a 0.

I do not calculate grades before the end of the semester.

All point totals are listed in this syllabus which will aid you in calculating your own grade. All of your grades will be on Blackboard.

Do not email me with questions until you check Blackboard announcements, your email, and you re-read this syllabus. Many questions can be answered by checking Blackboard announcements, your email, and reviewing this syllabus. If you still have questions after reviewing these three things, please email me using your Sul Ross email. I cannot answer email from non-Sul Ross accounts. Please address me as Dr. Dean in your communications. Please see the next course policy on how to write a professional email.

I value good grammar and professional communication.

In all of your work, please use good grammar. I require complete sentences in all of your assignments. If you write in phrases or without correct punctuation, you will receive point deductions. If you need a review on good grammar and acceptable writing practices, please make an appointment with the writing center.

Please be professional in your communications, especially when communicating by email. Please address me as Dr. Dean. For a review on how to write a professional email, please see <https://www.grammarly.com/blog/professional-email-in-english/>.

Please be respectful both to your peers and professors in all communications both during and outside of class. In this class we may discuss topics that are debatable in nature. I ask that you share your experiences and opinions as you are willing; all opinions are welcomed and encouraged. Therefore, as we embrace differing opinions, students should be prepared to experience and participate in respectful conflict. If at any time a student engages in a disrespectful manner to peers or the professor, the student will be asked to leave the class and not return.

I value mental health.

I believe mental health is just as important as physical health. Free and confidential counseling services are available to all Sul Ross students. This course may feature discussions that can be reflective in nature. Academic Integrity

Students in this class are expected to demonstrate scholarly behavior and academic honesty in the use of intellectual property. Students should submit work that is their own and avoid the temptation to engage in behaviors that violate academic integrity, such as turning in work as original that was used in whole or part for another course and/or professor; turning in another person's work as one's own; copying from professional works or internet sites without citation; collaborating on a course assignment, examination, or quiz when collaboration is forbidden. Students should also avoid using open AI sources unless permission is expressly given for an assignment or course. Violations of academic integrity can result in failing assignments, failing a class, and/or more serious university consequences. These behaviors also erode the value of college degrees and higher education overall.

Classroom Climate of Respect

Importantly, this class will foster free expression, critical investigation, and the open discussion of ideas. This means that all of us must help create and sustain an atmosphere of tolerance, civility, and respect for the viewpoints of others. Similarly, we must all learn how to probe, oppose and disagree without resorting to tactics of intimidation, harassment, or personal attack. No one is entitled to harass, belittle, or discriminate against another on the basis of race, religion, ethnicity, age, gender, national origin, or sexual preference. Still, we will not be silenced by the difficulty of fruitfully discussing politically sensitive issues.

Supportive Statement

I aim to create a learning environment for my students that supports various perspectives and experiences. I understand that the recent pandemic, economic disparity, and health concerns, or even unexpected life events may impact the conditions necessary for you to succeed. My commitment is to be there for you and help you meet the learning objectives of this course. I do this to demonstrate my commitment to you and to the mission of Sul Ross State University to create a supportive environment and care for the whole student as part of the Sul Ross Familia. If you feel like your performance in the class is being impacted by your experiences outside of class, please don't hesitate to come and talk with me. I want to be a resource for you.

Texas Senate Bill 17

Texas Senate Bill 17, the recent law that outlaws diversity, equity, and inclusion programs at public colleges and universities in Texas, does not in any way affect content, instruction or discussion in a course at public colleges and universities in Texas. Expectations regarding academic freedom for teaching and class discussion have not been altered post-SB 17, and students should not feel the need to censor their speech pertaining to topics pertaining to race and racism, structural inequality, LGBTQ+ issues, or diversity, equity, and inclusion.

AI Policy Statement: Sul Ross State University Kinesiology Department

The Sul Ross State University Kinesiology Department is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity and excellence. As artificial intelligence (AI) tools become increasingly accessible, we recognize their potential as valuable resources for learning and innovation. However, it is imperative that students use AI tools ethically and responsibly.

The improper use of AI in assignments, including but not limited to, generating content without proper attribution, submitting AI-generated work as one's own, or using AI tools to circumvent the learning process, constitutes academic dishonesty. Such actions undermine the educational goals of our programs and violate the University's Code of Conduct.

Students found to be improperly using AI for assignments may face severe consequences, including but not limited to receiving a failing grade for the assignment or course. Additionally, such violations will be referred to the Dean of Students Office for further disciplinary action, which may include probation, suspension, or expulsion from the University.

We encourage students to seek guidance from their instructors if they have any questions about the appropriate use of AI in their coursework. Our department is committed to fostering an environment of integrity, where students can achieve their academic and professional goals through honest and meaningful engagement with their studies.

The University does not recommend or endorse any specific AI tools or resources. Students should be aware that many generative AI tools (e.g., ChatGPT, Google Gemini, Microsoft Copilot) store user input and may use this data to train future models. For this reason, students should never upload or share personal, confidential, or identifiable information—such as names, ID numbers, health data, or assignment submissions containing such details—into any generative AI platform. When using AI tools, students should verify whether the tool complies with student privacy standards as indicated by the University. Faculty may recommend specific tools that better align with institutional data privacy policies, but ultimate responsibility for data protection rests with users. Students are encouraged to use faculty-recommended platforms when engaging in coursework involving generative AI. The University is not liable for any adverse experience or impact when students interact with these tools.
