ASSIGNMENT DESCRIPTIONS

Reading Assignments and Discussion Boards:

Three books are required for this class. You are expected to read the Abnormal Psychology (Wilbourne) text and the Clinical Psychopharmacology thoroughly, as indicated in your assignments and on the Calendar of Assignments. The DSM-5-TR (DSM) should be read selectively and used as a reference. You must become very familiar with its use; you need not memorize all the details of every diagnosis.

Reading assignments are listed in the DUE DATES for each assignment, as well as on the course Calendar of Assignments. Please complete the reading assignments and study the materials prior to submitting assignments.

DISCUSSION BOARD (DB) ASSIGNMENTS DIRECTIONS & INFORMATION:

All assignments are due at 11:55 pm CENTRAL TIME (OR 10:55 PM EL PASO TIME).

This semester you will be writing 27 Discussion Board posts.

The first two are really easy and are due right away! The first one is due on Friday, 1-16-26 (see more within the Discussion Board Assignments to Post/complete to know more about this). This first Discussion Board will be for you to read the syllabus, etc. and then post that you have read it and will abide by it. This must be done to continue the class. You will receive 5 points for writing and posting that by the deadline.

The second DB is an introduction of yourself, answering several questions so we can all get to know each other better. That posting is worth 10 points. I HIGHLY ENCOURAGE that you post a photo of yourself in that Introduction (you can attach it to your post). See the directions and questions to that under 'Assignments to Post/Complete,' 'Discussion Board.' It is the one that is due on Friday, 1-19-24.

The rest of the DBs are in two categories, with each category requiring different levels of writing, and either to respond to 2 classmates' posts or not. These are also scored differently.

The DBs that you will write using your Psychopharmacology book (the little one) will be to write IN YOUR WORDS (do NOT quote the source but cite it) 2-3 paragraphs about the chapter or pages you are directed to read for each of those. You do NOT need to respond to classmates on these DBs, but you must post before you can see anyone else's. There are 11 of these, and each is worth a maximum of 15 points.

The other 14 DBs will be summaries of the chapters you have read for that week. Some of the Discussion Boards are for you to read the indicated chapter in your textbook Abnormal Psychology (what I call your Psychopathology text) and write 4-5 paragraphs about the most important thing you read in the chapter. Do not use more than one (1) quote in these posts, and properly cite everything you used. You will be graded on the depth and understanding of your writing, as well as APA style in your writing. You must write your post first before you can see anyone else's. There are 15 chapters, but the first DB due in this category covers chapters 1 and 2 and is due on Thursday, 1-22-26.

The rest of these kinds of DBs will be over one chapter. You are required to write these posts in a formal way, using citations, formal APA style, writing 4-5 paragraphs. If you do an excellent job on your post, you may earn a maximum of 30 points. 5 extra points are given for each of 2 responses you write to a classmate AFTER you've made your post. You must post your chapter summary BEFORE you can see any of your classmates' posts (+10 points extra). Your responses to your classmates need to be professional observations about what they wrote, NOT for being a 'cheerleader' in their work. These DBs have a possible maximum points of 30.

IF FOR SOME REASON OR WAY YOU BY-PASS WRITING YOUR POST FIRST, you WILL RECEIVE A 0 FOR YOUR WORK, NO MATTER THE REASON FOR HOW YOU DID IT OR EVEN IF IT WAS A MISTAKE!

You usually have two Discussion Boards assigned weekly.

Follow the syllabus due dates, those you'll also find in the folders of the 'Assignments to Post/Complete,' and the due dates for each required DB.

I suggest you write up your work and proof it before you copy and paste it on your post. DO NOT ATTACH any document for someone (like your classmates or me) to have to open to read it. We're looking for ease of sharing our posts.

If you have any questions about these, please feel free to email me at rebecca.wren@sulross.edu, or text me at 432-386-6973. Please include your full name, the course number (6341 for this course), and the reason for reaching out. I will not proof your work before you turn it in, so please do not ask me to do that for you.

Video Quizzes:

Students are required to view video segments based on specific disorders and then take a quiz. There are 10 different disorders that will be presented through videos, and a quiz about the videos follows, with due dates for each. As you view each disorder, you are required to study the section of the DSM-5-TR related to that disorder. You should also read the textbook information regarding that disorder. The quiz will be based on the video content and the information in the DSM-5. You are not expected to memorize criteria in the DSM-5-TR, but you will need to be able to answer questions regarding those criteria.

Videos and Video Quizzes/Tests:

You are required to view video segments based on specific disorders and then take a quiz. As you view each disorder, you are required to study the section of the DSM-5-TR related to that disorder. The quiz will be based on the video content and the information in the DSM-5-TR. You are not expected to memorize criteria in the DSM-5-TR, but you will need to be able to answer questions regarding those criteria somewhat quickly. You must answer 10 questions per quiz/test in *60 minutes (the test will stop after that time and what you have answered will be graded, and what you did not answer will be graded as a 0).

Click on the "Video Quizzes/Tests" link on the left of your screen for instructions and to access the videos and quizzes (under the heading of 'Assignments to Post/Complete.')

Due dates for each quiz are listed in the syllabus and in the content folders of 'Video Quizzes/Tests.' To access this, see under 'ASSIGNMENTS TO POST/COMPLETE,' then click on VIDEO QUIZZES/TESTS, and in there you will see folders for each test, listed in chronological order of the due date (hopefully!). Those folders have all the videos you'll need to watch to pass the quiz. After you've watched all of them, click on the title for the Quiz document. You may take the quiz two times by the due date deadline. The questions are given randomly, so you won't have the same test the second time. Your highest score (if you take it twice) will be the score that is recorded and used for your final grade. Each test has 10 questions, with each question worth 10 points, for a maximum total of 100 points.

Late assignments will NOT be accepted, so I recommend you get them done early, in case an emergency were to come up at the last minute (just good time management skills).

Thank you.

* You do NOT have a time limit for the Bipolar Disorder Quiz/Test. But remember, you have two Video Quizzes/Tests due the same day: Both Major Depressive Disorder and Bipolar Disorder Quizzes/Tests are due at 11:55 pm (central) on Friday, February 27, 2026!

Final Project:

Final Project: A Psychoeducational Video for your private practice website:

More information and details about your Final Project will be posted here. I will also send out updated details in an Announcement when the details are completed.

What you will do for this Final Project is choose a Category of Disorders (such as Anxiety Disorders, Childhood Disorders, Mood Disorders, Eating Disorders, Sleep Disorders, Sexual Disorders, Neurological Disorders, Personality Disorders, etc.) from the DSM-5 and make a video tape. These will be posted on the link under the category of 'Assignments to Post/Complete,' and click on 'Final Project.' You will post your video there on BlackBoard. Although this project is not yet very detailed for you right now, you can start thinking about it and gathering information you may want to use in your video (NOT other videos!). Maybe you have a friend, a family member, or yourself have a disorder you'd like to explore more, but whatever the reason, start thinking about what category you want to present, and how you want to present it.

This project is worth A LOT OF POINTS, and acts as a 'Mid-term, Final, and Research paper' all rolled into one. It will be worth 480 points, plus another 20 for the Reference List for your project.

Each of you will imagine having your own private practice where you have a website for your clients and potential clients to visit. In your website you will have a 'Psychoeducational' component where your clients can learn about different disorders from you talking about specific disorders via Videos. It is good to show your face and your basic, kind but professional mannerisms to potential clients through this.

Your project will only be for one psychiatric category, and you will take 10-15 minutes to teach your clients about it. Your video must look and 'feel' professional and describe behaviors and symptoms common to that disorder. You will educate your clients about what the professional name of the category is, and the disorders under that category. You might even want to describe a short history of how that disorder has been seen throughout history. You can give other common terms used for the disorder, what symptoms are used for the diagnosis, common age onsets, different counseling treatment options for managing or overcoming the disorder, and much more. You will also speak about the medications commonly used to help this category of disorders, a very basic description on how they work, and how you can work with your client's psychiatrist, as it will be the psychiatrist who can prescribe psychotropic medications and not you. At the end you will tell the client how and where they can get more information about that disorder online. You will include an extensive (8-15) reference list. This Reference List is worth 20 points, and you will turn that in at the proper folder.

EACH STUDENT MUST REACH ME VIA EMAIL (rebecca.wren@sulross.edu) TO GET APPROVAL FOR THE DISORDER OR CATEGORY THEY WANT TO DO BY SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 2026. YOU MUST GET MY APPROVAL FIRST!!! So, start thinking about that now!

I'm looking forward to seeing your productions, and I feel it will help you down the line when you start your own private counseling practice!

More to come on this later!

Good luck this semester!
