Course Syllabus: Due to the organizational nature of the instructor, beyond this point, this syllabus is laid out in alphabetical order by topic. If, after reviewing the information presented here, you have questions about course access, assignments, policy etc. please do not hesitate to contact the instructor.

Academic Expectations: According to SRSU Undergraduate Academic Regulations, students must:

- A. be regular and punctual in attending classes;
- B. be well prepared for classes;
- C. submit required assignments in a timely manner;
- D. take exams when scheduled;
- E. act in a respectful manner toward other students and the instructor and in a way that does not detract from the learning experience; and
- F. make and keep appointments when necessary to meet with the instructor.

In addition to the above items, students are expected to meet the additional course and behavioral standards as defined in this syllabus.

Academic Integrity: Students in this class are expected to demonstrate scholarly behavior and academic honesty in the use of intellectual property. You are expected to be punctual, prepared, and focused; meaningful and pertinent participation is appreciated. Examples of academic dishonesty include but are not limited to: turning in work as original that was used in whole or part for another course and/or professor; turning in another person's work as one's own; copying from professional works or internet sites without citation; collaborating on a course assignment, examination, or quiz when collaboration is forbidden. On all work submitted for credit by students at the university, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

Academic Writing: Unless specifically noted otherwise, all written work submitted must be in Microsoft WORD™, double-spaced, 12-point Times New Roman font, pages numbered, and have 1" margins on all sides. All work submitted should follow APA 7th edition guidelines for formatting and bibliographical citations. Peer review of written work is an excellent practice and highly encouraged prior to submission of written assignments.

The University does not recommend or endorse any specific AI tools or resources. Students should be aware that many generative AI tools (e.g., ChatGPT, Google Gemini, Microsoft Copilot) store user input and may use this data to train future models. For this reason, students should never upload or share personal, confidential, or identifiable information—such as names, ID numbers, health data, or assignment submissions containing such details—into any generative AI platform. When using AI tools, students should verify whether the tool complies with student privacy standards as indicated by the University. Faculty may recommend specific tools that better align with institutional data privacy policies, but ultimate responsibility for data protection rests with users. Students are encouraged to use faculty-recommended platforms when engaging in coursework involving generative AI. The University is not liable for any adverse experience or impact when students interact with these tools.

This class will strive to create an environment that fosters learning, critical thinking, and effective communication. To achieve these goals, I have decided to prohibit the use of ChatGPT or similar tools during this course. While ChatGPT and other language models can be powerful and useful tools in certain contexts, I believe that relying on them for this course undermines the learning objectives. I want you to develop your skills in independent thinking, problem-solving, and engagement with the subject matter. By restricting the use of AI language models, you will utilize your knowledge, creativity, and critical analysis to complete your assignments and actively participate in class discussions. I understand that technology plays an increasingly prominent role in various aspects of our lives, and I acknowledge its potential benefits. However, in the context of this course, I believe that relying on personal effort and intellectual exploration will enhance your learning experience and contribute to your long-term development as a knowledgeable and well-rounded individual. It is important to note that this requirement applies to all aspects of the course, including assignments and any form of communication related to the course content. Any use of AI language models, including ChatGPT, during these activities will be considered a student conduct code violation. Should you have any questions or concerns regarding this course expectation, please feel free to discuss them with me. I am here to support and guide you throughout this educational journey.

Accommodations for Students: Sul Ross State University (SRSU) is committed to equal access in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1973. It is SRSU policy to provide reasonable accommodations to students with documented disabilities. It is the student's responsibility to initiate a request each semester for each class. Students seeking accessibility/accommodations services must contact Tiffany Telesca, LPC-S, SRSU's Accessibility and Counseling Services Director at 432-837-8203 or email tiffany.telesca@sulross.edu or AccessibilityServices@sulross.edu. Office is located on the first floor of Ferguson Hall, room 112, mailing address is P.O. Box C122, Sul Ross State University, Alpine, Texas, 79832.

Add /Drop Policy: This course will follow the University add/drop policy and timeline.

Assignment Policy: It is expected that assignments will be submitted on or before the specified due date. Assignments may be submitted after the due date and will be assessed a percentage penalty; submitted within 7 days = 15%; submitted 8-14 days = 30%; submitted 15 days & beyond = 50%. Incompletes will only be assigned under extreme circumstances. The last day to submit any late/revised assignment is the last regular class day of the semester.

Assistive/Service Animal Protocol: At Sul Ross State University policy, assistive animal and service animals are under differing rules. Assistance animals are not permitted in classroom/labs; service animals, as defined under the ADA, are permitted anywhere on campus. For additional clarification reference the SRSU Assistance Animal/Service Animal policy.

Attendance: Class participants will be treated as mature individuals who have developed a sense of responsibility for their education. As such, you will be held accountable for all material covered in class, despite valid reasons for absence. Attendance will be recorded at each class session. In the case of emergency, students should contact the instructor as soon as possible after the emergency situation has been resolved. Documentation of a "university excused absence" will allow the student to make up missed work, but WILL NOT count towards earned attendance points.

Health-Related Absences: Please evaluate your own health status regularly and refrain from attending class and other on-campus events if you are ill. Students who miss class due to illness will be given opportunities to access course materials online. In the event of contagious illness, please do not come to class or to campus to turn in work. Instead notify the instructor by email about your absence as soon as practical, so that accommodations can be made. Please note that documentation (a Doctor's note) for medical excuses is not required.

Classroom Climate and Respect: It is my intent, as course instructor, that students from all backgrounds and perspectives be well-served by this course, that students' learning needs be addressed both in and beyond the course, and that the multiplicity students bring to this course be viewed as a resource, strength and benefit. It is my intent to present materials and activities that are respectful of all students. Your suggestions about how to improve the value of this course are encouraged and appreciated. Please let me know ways to improve the effectiveness of the course for you personally or for other students or student groups.

At SRSU, we support learning environments where individual and cultural differences are appreciated, recognized, respected and understood. We shall hold each other accountable to demonstrate diligence in recognizing and respecting differing behaviors, perspectives and worldviews. In addition, in scheduling assignments, I have attempted to avoid conflicts with major religious/cultural holidays. If, however, I have inadvertently scheduled a major deadline that creates a conflict with your religious/cultural observances, please let me know as soon as possible so that we can make other arrangements.

Collaboration: Unless otherwise specified, students may not collaborate on graded material. Any exceptions to this policy will be stated explicitly for individual assignments. If you have any questions about the limits of collaboration, you are expected to ask for clarification.

Copyright Notice for Course Materials: U.S. copyright laws protect this syllabus, course presentations, all Blackboard™ materials and any other course materials provided throughout this term. Students enrolled in the course may use materials for their own educational purposes within the Educational Fair Use policy of the U.S. Copyright Office. However, reproducing, selling or otherwise distributing these materials in any manner or medium without written permission of the copyright owner is expressly prohibited.

Electronic video and/or audio recording is not permitted during class/lab unless the student obtains written permission from the instructor. If permission is granted, any distribution of the recording is prohibited.

Course Communication: Communication is a two-way interaction. Students are encouraged to stop by my office during posted office hours to ask questions, check-in or simply say hello. I also encourage you to call (phone number listed on p. 1) or email (also listed on p. 1). During the work week, I will check email multiple times through the day and will commit to responding to your communication within 48 hours. Weekend communication (noon Friday-8:00 AM Monday) will not be answered until Monday mornings after 8:00 AM. I request the same commitment from you.

Evaluation Components:

Alpha-Wolf Interview: As a Lobo Pup, you have multiple opportunities to learn about our University, about opportunities, scholarships, support and careers from the pack leaders within our Lobo community. You are expected to contact (by email or phone) one of the pack leaders to schedule a time for an interview with that person. Ideas for questions will be discussed during class. Upon completion of the interview you are to prepare a summary (2-3 pages) detailing 1) the person you chose to interview and why you chose that person; 2) the insights you gained, and; 3) the take-aways that will help you in your college endeavors. The evaluation rubric is provided on Blackboard.

Potential interviewee sources include:

- Faculty member within your intended major/field of interest;
- Upper division student (junior or senior) within your major/field of interest;
- Graduate student within your major/field of interest;
- Upper division student (junior or senior) from a background or culture different than your own, ie international student, under-represented population, etc.
- Staff member from one of the units within SRSU that provides student support.

Alpha-Wolf Report: Each class participant will prepare a PowerPoint presentation consisting of 6 slides (title, intro, three main points, conclusion/summary) based on the interview you completed. You will make your presentation to your classmates on dates designated in the attached course schedule. Additional details such as time parameters will be discussed in class. Presentation date and order will be randomly drawn.

Attendance: Attendance will be recorded for each class session.

Club Meeting Reflection Paper: Each student is required to attend at least one SRSU student club/organization meeting. The documentation for this assignment will include a) a signature from one of the club's officers, along with date, time and location of meeting; b) a selfie of you with one of the club's officers while at the meeting; c) a reflection paper written in essay format (introduction, three support paragraphs and a conclusion/summary). Support paragraphs are to focus on 1) club/organization history, mission and goals; 2) overview of meeting agenda including reports and action items; and 3) your reflection of why this club might be a good fit and benefit with your college experience.

Draft Spring 2027 Class Schedule: Registration for spring 2027 classes will start in October. In helping you prepare for that spring semester, you are expected to meet with your respective academic advisor (Lobo Den) and develop a draft schedule for the spring semester. Upload to Blackboard a screenshot or PDF file along with a “selfie” of you and your academic advisor.

Email the Instructor: Messaging can be compared to the clothes we wear – there are times for casual, times for professional and times for formal. To get you prepared for the professional messaging in a collegiate setting, each student will craft an email message to the course instructor using the template format provided in Blackboard.

IACUC/IRB Training: The Animal Welfare Act of 1966 mandates that universities have in place a plan and training to foster compliance with regulations and guidelines for the care/use of animals in research and teaching. Similarly, there are protocols to ensure the rights and well-being of people recruited for research studies. SRSU provides free training in preparation for interacting with both animals and humans. Depending on your major and interests, you will select either the basic IACUC or basic Human Subjects training and complete the online modules. Either take generally 45-60 minutes. To earn the points for this assignment, upload a screen shot, a JPEG file or a PDF file of your completion certificate to the Blackboard assignment submission folder for the course.

Personal Mission Statement & SMART Goals: Following the class discussion of goals and personal mission, each student will prepare a personal mission statement along with six SMART goals to help accomplish that mission. Specific goals will include three short-term (3-9 months); two intermediate-term (12-24 months) and one long-term (>24 months).

Service Leadership Project: Each class participant is expected to complete a service leadership project to benefit our shared community. The project will be completed in collaboration with other students in Freshman Seminar as well as SR faculty and staff. Each student must complete a project plan utilizing the template provided within Blackboard. Upon completion of the project each student will prepare a Service Leadership Reflection. Evaluation criteria and rubric are provided on Blackboard.

Time Management Journal and Reflection: Each class participant will complete two week-long time management journals and then prepare one 2-3-page reflection paper highlighting the charms, challenges and changes related to the way you manage your time.

Library Information: The Bryan Wildenthal Memorial Library and Archives of the Big Bend in Alpine offers FREE resources and services to the entire SRSU community. Access and borrow books, articles, and more by visiting the library's website, library.sulross.edu. Off-campus access requires logging in with your LoboID and password. Librarians are a tremendous resource for your coursework and can be reached in person, by email (srsulibrary@sulross.edu), or phone (432-837-8123). SRSU TexShare Cardholders can access additional services and resources at various libraries across Texas. Learn more about the TexShare program by visiting library.sulross.edu/texshare

Pedagogy: Through experiential activities, students will individually and collaboratively solve problems, make decisions, reflect on past and current practices, and engage in dialogue. For this pedagogy to be successful, student participation is critical. Each student enrolled must access course content through Blackboard AND review the assigned materials PRIOR to attending class.

Plagiarism: Paraphrasing or quoting another's work without citing the source is a form of academic misconduct. Even inadvertent or unintentional misuse or appropriation of another's work (such as relying heavily on source material that is not expressly acknowledged) is considered plagiarism. You are strongly encouraged to familiarize yourself and to use the Originality Report feature in Blackboard to determine if you have inadvertently plagiarized or incorrectly cited a source. If you have any questions about using and citing sources, you are expected to ask for clarification.

For additional information, reference the SRSU Student Handbook.

Students are full partners in fostering a classroom environment conducive to learning. In order to assure that all students have the opportunity to gain from time spent in class; students are prohibited from engaging in any form of behavior that detracts from the learning experience of fellow students. Inappropriate behavior will result in a request for the offending student to leave class.

Opposing perspectives are welcomed and encouraged. Nevertheless, class participants are expected to treat one another with the respect and dignity to which all community members are entitled. Nothing less than such democratic behavior will be acceptable. I support an inclusive learning environment where diversity and differently-abled individuals/groups are appreciated, recognized and respected. All SRSU community members will demonstrate diligence in understanding how peoples' perspectives, behaviors, and worldviews enhance us all as individuals and as a community.

Hands-on participation is essential for successful completion of this course; therefore, each class member must come prepared, both physically and mentally, to take part in each class activity. Other specific classroom rules will be discussed as appropriate.

Student Records: All records related to this course are confidential and will not be shared with anyone, without a signed, written release. If you wish to have information from your records shared with others, you must provide written request/authorization to the instructor. Before giving such authorization, you should understand the purpose of the release and to whom and for how long the information is authorized for release.

Student Wellness: SRSU strives to create a culture of support and recognizes that your mental health and wellness are equally as important as your physical health. We want you to know it is OK if you experience difficulty, and there are several resources on campus to help you succeed emotionally, personally, and academically. Please know that if you choose to confide in me, I am required by the university to report to the Title IX Coordinator, as SRSU and I want to ensure you are connected with all the support the university can offer. You are not required to respond to outreach from the university if you do not want to do so. You can also make a report yourself, including an anonymous report, through the SRSU Title IX Report Form.

Our university has partnered with TimelyCare where all SR students will have access to nine free online counseling sessions. You can learn more about this 24/7/356 support by visiting Timelycare/SRSU.
