Course Description

Economics is the study of how societies allocate resources to produce goods and services that fulfill our basic needs, such as food and shelter, as well as our wants, like leisure, work, or travel. This is known as the economic problem, which has been of interest since the dawn of human existence. Economists have analyzed how different societies in the past and present have addressed this challenge, leading to the development of Economics.

Since the Industrial Revolution, the world has been changing rapidly, and the economy and economic relationships among actors have become more complex. However, Economics has also been evolving swiftly, resulting in various fields of specialization that stem from the two main branches of Economics: Macroeconomics and Microeconomics.

Managerial Economics is a subfield of Microeconomics that focuses on the practical application of economic methods to broaden managers' understanding of consumer behavior and market conditions to improve their decision-making and enhance organizations' resource allocation efficiency. These align with the Student Learning Outcomes of the program. In this course, we will cover topics like present value analysis, consumer behavior, demand, and regression analysis, production, and costs, as well as techniques for maximizing profits in oligopolies, monopolies, and highly competitive markets.

Student Learning Outcomes of the Course

At the end of the course, the student will

1. Explain how the demand and supply model provides a general framework for how prices are determined in a highly competitive market.
2. Apply the concepts from the theory of consumer behavior to problems in the real world.
3. Be able to apply economic concepts to make resource allocation more efficient in the firm's production process.
4. Discuss the differences between the different market structures
5. Weigh the importance of the value of money throughout time for decision-making.
6. Recognize the different market structures and apply optimization techniques to select the optimal quantity or price to maximize the profits of the firm.
7. Apply the different market strategies for profit maximization under diverse market structures.

MBA Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the MBA, students will:

1. Have the ability to collect, evaluate, and analyze data to make informed business decisions.
2. Demonstrate business leadership skills through the development of innovative solutions to complex problems that satisfy the needs of the multiple stakeholders of the organization.
3. Have the ability to design sustainable business models that ensure long term competitive advantage in the ever changing global economy.
4. Be able to recognize major digital trends impacting business and adapt their organization to leverage these trends into a competitive advantage.

MBA Marketable Skills

Upon successful completion of the MBA students will have the following marketable skills:

1. The ability to use software to analyze and report data.
2. The ability to work with others to solve problems.
3. The ability to communicate effectively.
4. The ability to use the latest digital technology.

Academic Integrity

Students in this class are expected to demonstrate scholarly behavior and academic honesty in the use of intellectual property. A scholar is expected to be punctual, prepared, and focused; meaningful and pertinent participation is appreciated. Examples of academic dishonesty include but are not limited to: Turning in work as original that was used in whole or part for another course and/or professor; turning in another person's work as one's own; copying from professional works or internet sites without citation; collaborating on a course assignment, examination, or quiz when collaboration is forbidden. Students should also avoid using open AI sources unless permission is expressly given for an assignment or course. Violations of academic integrity can result in failing assignments, failing a class, and/or more serious university consequences. These behaviors also erode the value of college degrees and higher education overall.

Any student found guilty of such misconduct will be subject to disciplinary action, including a zero score on his/her class activities.

Classroom Climate of Respect

This class will foster free expression, critical investigation, and the open discussion of ideas. This means that all of us must help create and sustain an atmosphere of tolerance, civility, and respect for the viewpoints of others. Similarly, we must all learn how to probe, oppose, and disagree without resorting to tactics of intimidation, harassment, or personal attack. No one is entitled to harass, belittle, or discriminate against other students.

Library Resources

The Bryan Wildenthal Memorial Library and Archives of the Big Bend in Alpine offers FREE resources and services to the entire SRSU community. Access and borrow books, articles, and more by visiting the library's website, library.sulross.edu. Off-campus access requires logging in with your LoboID and password. Librarians are a tremendous resource for your coursework and can be reached in person, by email (srsulibrary@sulross.edu), or by phone (432-837-8123).

No matter where you are based, public libraries and many academic and special libraries welcome the general public into their spaces for study. SRSU TexShare Cardholders can access additional services and resources at various libraries across Texas. Learn more about the TexShare program by visiting library.sulross.edu/texshare or ask a librarian by emailing srsulibrary@sulross.edu.

Mike Fernandez, SRSU Librarian, is based in Eagle Pass (Building D-129) to offer specialized library services to students, faculty, and staff. Utilize free services such as InterLibrary Loan, ScanIt, and Direct Mail to get materials delivered to you at home or via email.

SRSU Distance Education Statement

Students enrolled in distance education courses have equal access to the university's academic support services, such as library resources, online databases, and instructional technology support. For more information about accessing these resources, visit the SRSU website. Students should correspond using SRSU email accounts and submit online assignments through Blackboard, which requires a secure login. Students enrolled in distance education courses at SRSU are expected to adhere to all policies about academic honesty and appropriate student conduct, as described in the student handbook. Students on web-based courses must maintain appropriate equipment and software, according to the needs and requirements of the course, as outlined on the SRSU website. Directions for filing a student complaint are in the student handbook

Teaching Methods/Course Format

This is an online asynchronous course. My guide will help you complete various activities, submit them by their deadlines, and achieve the learning objectives of the course.

Assessment strategy

Activity	Weight	Purpose
Homework	15%	Recall core managerial economics concepts (cost analysis, demand estimation, pricing) through regular practice problems.
Discussion Posts	10%	Build applied economic reasoning by analyzing real business decisions and market conditions with peers.

Applied Assignment / Case Study	30%	Demonstrate the ability to use economic tools (cost-benefit, elasticity, market structure analysis) to solve a real-world business problem.
Midterm Exam	20%	Assess mastery of foundational concepts covered in the first half of the course.
Final Exam	25%	Evaluate comprehensive understanding and application of managerial economics principles across the full course.
Total	100%

Course Assignments

Homework

Each assignment is worth 100 points and must be completed on the publisher's platform. You access it through Blackboard. There are 10 homework assignments in total. However, I will take into account only the highest 9 scores to compute your homework average grade.

Weekly Discussion Board

Instructions:

1. Faculty will post a weekly discussion board that will be available at 12:01 AM on Monday and will have a due date of the following Sunday at 11:59 PM.
2. Complete the homework assigned for each chapter before you proceed to post your comments on the discussion board.
3. Students will be required to respond to the question itself by Friday and reply to two other students by Sunday night. The instructor will participate actively in the discussions.

Discussion Board Rubric: (100 points)

Rubric 1: The student's main post responded completely and substantially to all of parts of the discussion question. (60 points).

Rubric 2: The student's initial post was no later than Sunday (10 points)

Rubric 3: The response was well-organized, clear, and free of grammatical and mechanical errors. (10 points).

Rubric 4: The student posts substantially to two other students. 10 points each (20 points)

Applied Assignments

This course includes written assignments designed to help you apply managerial economics concepts and analytical tools to real-world business scenarios. Each assignment is worth 100 points total: 80 points are based on the content and analysis outlined in the assignment instructions, 10 points are reserved for timely submission, and 10 points are allocated for organization, grammar, and mechanical accuracy. These assignments will be submitted via Blackboard in MS Word / PDF format, 12-point Times New Roman font, double-spaced following APA Style Format.

Midterm Exam

A midterm exam consisting of several questions covering the material covered in the first half of the course. It will be available to students for at least one week before the exam deadline of September 20, 2026. The exam will be worth 100 points and no late submissions.

Final Exam

A final essay exam consisting of four essay questions covering the material covered in the course. It will be available to students for at least one week before the end of class. The exam will be worth 100 points, of which 10 points are for organization, grammar, or mechanical errors. No late submissions.

Grading Policies and Procedures

Late penalty: 10%, except for the assignments due in the 8th week, which have no deadline extensions.

If you find an error in the way you have been graded, please email me and ask for a review. Any changes to assignment grades must be requested not later than 48 hours after the respective deadline. In the case of the last assignment, this request must be done before the beginning of the final exam.

Students who miss an assignment submission as a result of required participation in a university activity, a death in the immediate family, or a serious illness (COVID quarantine without a positive test does not count) will receive a make-up exam upon request, but no later than 1 week after the incident. If you miss an exam due to one of the valid excuses above, please contact me within 48 hours (about 2 days) to be eligible to receive a make-up assignment. Students who miss an exam for any other reason will receive a zero score for the exam.
